House Passes School Funds

Flood Of Bills May Keep Assembly On Job 2 Weeks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weight of vital pending legislation has broken the back of legislative leaders' plans to wind up the regular session of the 103rd General Assembly next week. Chances are the session will continue at least two more weeks.

One of the bills delaying the final working session—the school foundation revision—was passed by the House Thursday and sent to the Senate. It distributes an extra 52 million dollars in school subsidy funds in the next two years.

Next Monday, the House is expected to send to the Senate a much-revised bill increasing workmen's compensation benefits, another of the key bills. Backers of the controversial measure plan to work over the weekend on more last-minute changes.

And the Senate Taxation Committee Monday night will begin an 11th-hour push on a bill to nullify an Ohio Supreme Court decision Wednesday. The court held constitutional a 1957 law giving the State Board of Tax Appeals the right to set up stringent and uniform statewide rules on real estate valuations. Fears were expressed residential property would be hit harder by taxation.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, conceding to newsmen that "we are trying to arouse some interest in the bill," said the measure's aim is to "put the law back where it was before 1957."

DiSalle also shows some hope of a last-ditch resuscitation of his labor reform bill—a measure once given up for dead. The bill, after struggling out of a House committee 10 days after it apparently was killed, is scheduled to come to a House floor vote early next week. But, it faces a highly uncertain future if it finally reaches the Senate.

The governor also is not willing to take lying down the unexpected defeat of his criminal conspiracy bill in the Senate Judiciary Committee. In the face of unanimous House approval for the bill, the committee voted 5-1 Thursday to kill the measure as "unneeded."

DiSalle told newsmen he is unable to understand the committee's action. He said he has asked Sen. John C. Smith (D-Montgomery) to move for reconsideration of the fatal vote. Smith is the only layman member of the committee and made the original motion to postpone action on the bill indefinitely.

Thursday's windup of the legislative week saw:

The Senate virtually completed action on an emergency, House-approved bill to modify Ohio Blue Laws after knocking out an amendment inserted by one of its own committees which would have permitted Sunday sales which serve the convenience of Ohio consumers.

The Senate completed action on a liberalized unemployment compensation law by accepting House amendments unanimously. The act increases top benefits for jobless workers with families from $39 to $53 for 26 weeks. The act now goes to the governor for signature.

The big school bill will increase state subsidies to local districts from 364 million dollars for the two-year bookkeeping period which ended June 30 to 416 millions in the next two years. The House voted approval 132-1 with only Rep. Paul Siple (D - Lawrance) voting no. Siple was chief sponsor of the bill and is chairman of the House Education Committee.

Siple said his vote was a protest against House amendment

Hoffa Aims At Nationwide Pact For Truck Drivers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Teamsters under President James R. Hoffa plan a meeting in Chicago next summer to work on a single nationwide agreement that would cover thousands of long distance truck drivers throughout the United States in 1961.

Long distance hauling is presently covered by three major teamster contracts which divide the giant union into three geographical areas. One covers the eastern states, another the central and southern states and the third almost all of the western states.

Hoffa outlined his plans here before a western conference of Teamsters General Hauling Caucus Thursday before he flew to Washington for a date today with the Senate rackets probers.

Under present contracts, Hoffa said, Teamsters union members with valid contracts may be required to drive trucks into areas where other union members are on strike.

With a single master agreement in effect for the entire nation, Hoffa said, no union member would have to cross another's picket line.

Hoffa explained that all contracts covering long distance hauling in the continental 48 states expire within a 60-day period during the summer of 1961.

Hoffa said that if strategy for the master negotiations is successful, the separate agreements will be replaced by one master contract covering all 48 states with a common expiration date, common working conditions and comparable wage rates throughout the nation.

Fading Cindy Continues To Bring Rains

By The Associated Press

The remnants of tropical storm Cindy continued to pick up showers and thundershowers in the central Carolinas and Virginia today. There were a few other wet spots but clear skies were the rule in the major part of the country.

The rains tapered off in the Carolinas after some heavy falls. Rainfall in the Columbia, S.C., area measured some 14 inches.

Afternoon thundershowers were indicated in the southern Rockies, southern Plateau region, the upper Missississi Valley and parts of the upper Great Lakes. Rain was in prospect later in the day and tonight in New England.

But fair weather was on tap from California northward to Oregon and Washington eastward across the northern and central Rockies, into the central plains.

West May Give New Plan To Reds On Berlin Issue

To Propose Fall Parley At 'Summit'

Offer To Be Made Monday When Talks Resume At Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — The Western Allies are reported working up a new proposal to put the Berlin dispute on ice for several years and give the Soviet Union a summit conference in the fall.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France are expected to put the proposal to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko soon after the Big Four conference resumes here Monday.

As outlined here, the plan contains only one change in previous Western proposals. East and West Germany would be given equal representation on a subcommittee to take preliminary steps toward reunification of Germany.

Previously the West proposed a subcommittee of 25 West Germans and 10 from the Communist East, because West Germany's population is more than three times that of the East.

In return for this concession, Western officials think the Soviets might agree to freeze the situation in Central Europe, including Berlin. But they are considerably less than optimistic.

"It all depends on whether Premier Khrushchev wants any kind of settlement at all," said a highly placed Western official.

In addition to the freeze on the Berlin situation, the other key point in the plan is appointment of a Big Four commission to work on plans for reunification of Germany, the end of the Berlin occupation and a mutual security system in Central Europe.

The foreign ministers would set no deadline for the commission and the subcommittee to complete their work. That would be left for the heads of government at the summit conference.

At the end of the agreed period, another foreign ministers' meeting would be held to study the reports of the commission and the subcommittee.

3 Men Nabbed In Newell For Check Charge

Mahoning County authorities are holding two Chester men and a Newell resident following their arrest Wednesday by Hancock County sheriff's deputies, who said they are wanted for a bad check-writing spree.

Nabbed at Newell were Ralph E. Heath, 24, of Newell, who gave his home address as Rochester, N. Y., and Gilbert E. Mikeals, 24, and Sherman E. Mikeals, 21, both of 1st St., Chester.

The sheriff's office at New Cumberland was alerted to be on the watch for the trio after a check printing machine was stolen recently from the North Lima Trucking Co. in Mahoning County.

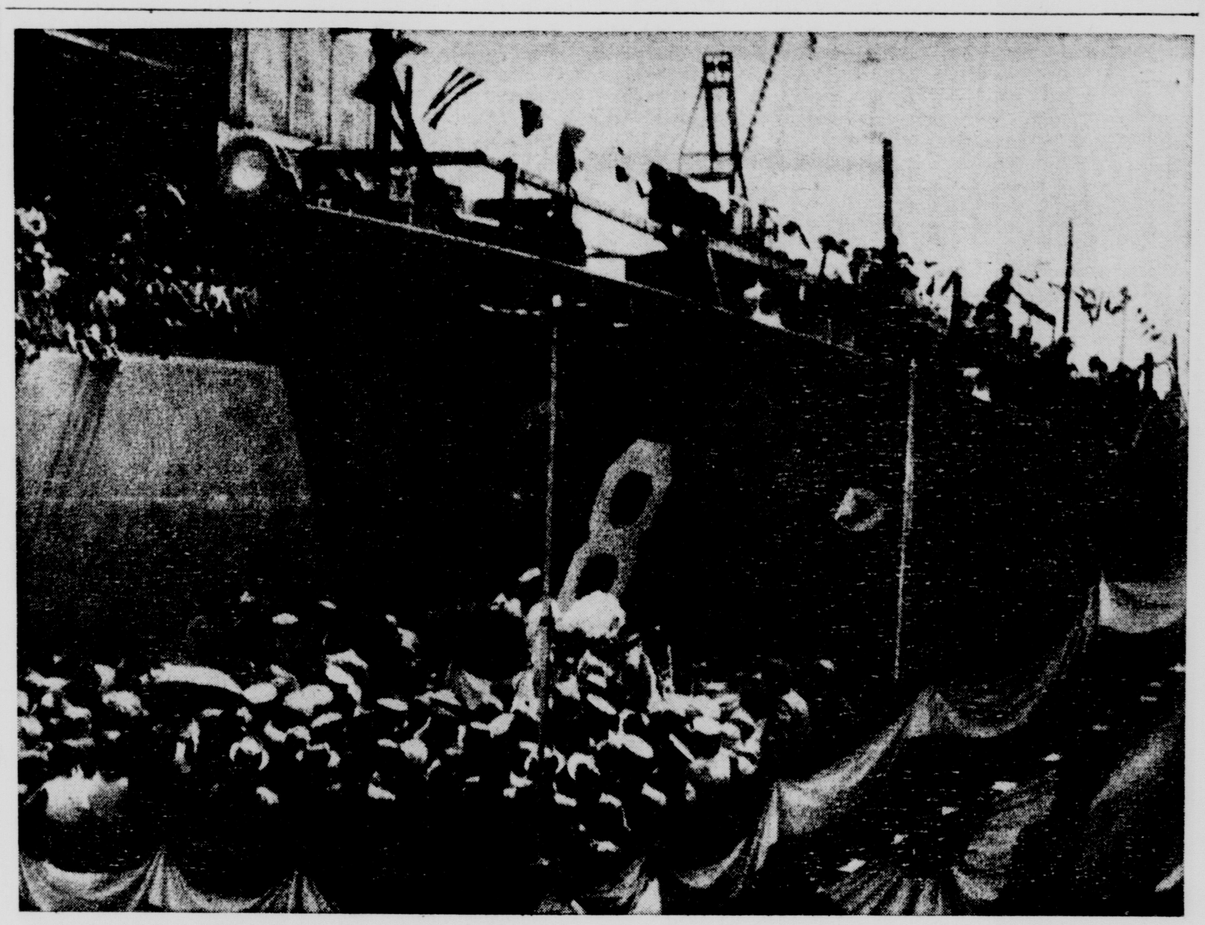

Deputies said the three had in their possession $1,080 worth of checks prepared by the machine. The checks were hidden in a defroster hose connected to the motor of the car in which two of the suspects were riding. One of the three was arrested while walking along a street.

Heath is out on bond for a previous burglary violation in Hancock County, while the older Mikeals is on probation for another violation of the law, deputies said.

The sheriff's office said deputies apprehended the men within an hour and a half after receiving their descriptions from the Mahoning County sheriff's office.

Deputies said the trio is being held in Mahoning County Jail at Youngstown awaiting hearings on charges of writing false checks and theft of the check-writing machine.

Several of the "rubber" checks were passed in Mahoning County, deputies added. However, none was believed cashed in the Hancock County area.

U.S. Officials See Hope In Geneva Talks

Herter Points To Some Chance For Accord On Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials saw a glimmer of hope today that renewed Geneva talks will at last start removing the Berlin crisis as an explosive threat to world peace.

Christian A. Herter pointed to "some possibility" of reaching agreement with the Soviets Thursday in his first formal news conference as Secretary of State.

Herter said he has never been optimistic about successful negotiations with the Reds. But he pointed to a couple of unanswered questions in recent Soviet statements on the German question.

If the Soviets come up with the right answers when the foreign ministers resume their conference Monday, he indicated, then there will be progress instead of the deadlock that featured the first six weeks of the parley.

He said the questions are:

1. Whether Moscow is insisting that in case of a temporary agreement on West Berlin, the Allies forfeit their rights to the Communist-encircled city when the agreement lapses;

2. Whether Moscow is demanding a time limit on such an agreement.

Britain, France and the United States have denounced Soviet talk of deadlines as ultimatums or threats under which they could not negotiate. And they say West Berlin must remain free. The Communists are calling for an end to the Allies' postwar occupation of the city.

Herter flies to Geneva Saturday for the conference reopening after a three week recess. He told newsmen jokingly his feeling about returning to the parley "might be unprintable"—and he hopes not to stay beyond three weeks this time.

A final round of advice on how to deal with the Soviets was due today with the arrival in Washington of W. Averell Harriman, one-time Democratic presidential aspirant and a former ambassador to Moscow who recently toured the Soviet Union.

Harriman has already cabled the State Department that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked tough to him in Moscow. He planned to report in person to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Herter and the Senate Foreign Relations committee during the day.

For Superhighways

U.S. Studies Hike On Gasoline Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A possible gasoline tax increase was one of several ways studied today to keep work going on the national superhighway network in the years ahead.

An increase somewhat less than the 1½ cents a gallon President Eisenhower proposed still was an important part of several compromise plans ready for consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee.

In advance of today's session, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark) indicated no specific solution was imminent, although a number of alternatives were known to be under study.

Eisenhower proposed last January an increase to 4½ cents a gallon to avoid a threatened deficit in the special highway trust fund from which federal grants are made. House Democrats balked at the plan, and the Senate rejected it as an amendment to another tax measure last month.

Without some assurance of added money, the highway fund will be too small to permit scheduled allocations to the states next month of amounts they can spend in the year starting next July 1. The allocations are made in advance to allow time for the necessary planning. A pay-as-you-go requirement in the highway law limits spending to the amount in the fund.

That requirement was suspended temporarily during last year's recession. Eisenhower has opposed any further suspension or other solution that would draw on regular treasury funds. But hints of a possible compromise developed this week.

Two major compromise plans now being contemplated would provide:

1. A ½-cent increase in the gas tax to bring in an extra 280 million dollars, temporary suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement, and a two-year stretchout of the program now due for completion in 1972.

2. A one-cent increase in the gas tax worth 560 millions, also with suspension of the pay-as-you-go requirement.

The trust fund is financed from earmarked taxes on gasoline, tires and tubes, diesel fuel, trucks, buses and a highway use tax on trucks.

Currently, the trust fund is expected to go into the red about half a billion dollars by the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

Potters' Union Extends Term For Officers

Terms of international officers will be extended from two years to four, effective in 1961, according to action taken by delegates from local unions of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, which is preparing to wind up its 65th annual convention today at Montreal, Canada.

The extension of the terms, affecting 12 top leaders of the union, was provided for in a resolution approved by the delegates.

Delegates also decided to hold the 1960 convention in Seattle, Wash. The date will be fixed later, but it probably will be in early July.

The convention opened Monday in the Sheraton-Mt. Royal Hotel, with E. L. Wheatley, international president, presiding. Delegates are attending from local unions throughout the nation — the majority from the East Liverpool area.

One of the highlights was the installation of international officers for new two-year terms. All were re-elected during a general election for the trade on May 3.

Meanwhile, a statement of assets and liabilities published in Thursday's edition of the Potters Herald, official organ of the union, showed total net assets of $7,504,605.

The assets include $555,749 in three checking accounts, $338,883 in savings accounts, $906,812 in bonds, $5,283,313 in stocks, $416,837 in property and equipment and $8,275 in miscellaneous.

The statement is published in compliance with the Taft-Hartley Act., the union said.

Steelworkers Await Offer From Firms

No Sign Industry Will Budge As Strike Deadline Looms

NEW YORK (AP)—The Steelworkers union waited expectantly today for an industry labor contract settlement offer. But there was no sign that steel firms intended to budge.

With an industrywide walkout threatened at midnight Tuesday, substantial progress must be made before Sunday if costly preparations for banking furnaces and tapering off steel production are to be avoided.

Executives of the industry's top dozen steel companies huddled to decide whether to make a last-ditch wage offer to avert a walkout.

Apparently there was divided opinion. There was no announced decision. New York newspapers said the industry chieftains reportedly decided to stick to their advocacy of a one-year wage freeze.

The Steelworkers union, headed by President David J. McDonald, indicated this meant a sure strike.

Crucible Plans Delay In Shutdown Operation

A spokesman for the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. said today the company will delay any shutdown of operations until the last possible moment.

In the event no wage settlement is reached before Tuesday, furnaces at Midland probably will go down then, with all operations stopped by midnight in accordance with arrangements made with the union for an orderly shutdown, the firm said.

WINNFIELD, La. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long said today he will file suit Monday for damages in excess of two million dollars against Time, Inc., for what he claimed were "slanderous articles and pictures" in Time and Life magazines.

He said he expects his attorney, Joe Arthur Sims, to file the suits in 19th District Court in Baton Rouge. The announcement was telephoned to Mrs. Margaret Dixon, managing editor of the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate.

Nabbed at Newell were Ralph E. Heath, 24, of Newell, who gave his home address as Rochester, N. Y., and Gilbert E. Mikeals, 24, and Sherman E. Mikeals, 21, both of 1st St., Chester.

The sheriff's office at New Cumberland was alerted to be on the watch for the trio after a check printing machine was stolen recently from the North Lima Trucking Co. in Mahoning County.

Deputies said the three had in their possession $1,080 worth of checks prepared by the machine. The checks were hidden in a defroster hose connected to the motor of the car in which two of the suspects were riding. One of the three was arrested while walking along a street.

Heath is out on bond for a previous burglary violation in Hancock County, while the older Mikeals is on probation for another violation of the law, deputies said.

The sheriff's office said deputies apprehended the men within an hour and a half after receiving their descriptions from the Mahoning County sheriff's office.

Deputies said the trio is being held in Mahoning County Jail at Youngstown awaiting hearings on charges of writing false checks and theft of the check-writing machine.

Several of the "rubber" checks were passed in Mahoning County, deputies added. However, none was believed cashed in the Hancock County area.

Republic, Republicans Democrat Confuses

MANGUM, Okla. (AP) — Miss Ura Foster, a teacher at Mangum's Edison grade school, noticed that one youngster, David Kirtley, was not taking part in the morning flag salute.

"What's the matter, David, don't you know the words?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am," the 10-year-old replied, "but I'm a Democrat and the flag salute says, 'I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, to the Republicans for which it stands."

Escapee Arrested

CHRISTIANSBURG, Va. (AP) —Alvin E. Cordell, 31, identified as an escapee from the London, Ohio, Prison Farm, was arrested Thursday at his sister's farm home near here. Officers said he was serving a 1-15 year term for assault and attempted robbery when he walked off from the medium security prison June 22. Arrangements are under way to return him there.

Legislature

which, he said, would give money to wealthy school districts at the expense of poorer districts.

He was especially irked by an amendment adopted on the floor to increase the so-called "flat distribution" from $1,925 to $2,000 for each teacher-classroom unit of 30 pupils. The flat distribution goes to every school district which has taxed itself at least 12½ mills per $100 real estate valuation for school operation.

School districts levying less than 12½ mills for operating purposes would not receive the flat distribution, a lever to force school districts to accept what school leaders consider to be a statewide level of responsibility.

Some districts, with heavy concentrations of industry, already raise enough money to meet school costs without levying as much as 12½ mills.

In addition to the flat distribution, some districts with a low per-pupil real estate valuation, receive additional aid from the state. In cases where a 12½-mill levy, plus regular state aid, fails to cover a district's obligations, the state makes up the difference.

The so-called unit operating allowance was set by the House bill at $1,725 for each teacher - classroom unit. That is a $300 increase from the present $1,425 allowance, but $75 lower than the $1,800 recommended by the House Education Committee.

The school bill as it stands is about 3¼ million dollars above the amount recommended by DiSalle. He told newsmen he has put Senate leaders on notice the bill must be shaved by that amount before it is sent to his desk for approval.

She'll Be More Careful On Inserting Next Ad

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Miss Mona Ging will be more careful the next time she inserts an advertisement in a newspaper.

She ran this one: "College grad wanted to share apt. Swimming pool." She included the address, and this happened:

"So many boys came around or called up," Miss Ging says, "I had to move and change my phone number. I did meet an awful lot of very nice fellows, though."

The party planned to arrive in their chartered DC7B plane at Pittsburgh, about 1 p.m. to be greeted by Frederic Weir, president of the City Council and representative of the University of Pittsburgh.

On the Pittsburgh schedule is a visit to the Homestead works of United States Steel, and a dinner to be given by industrial leaders.

The rest of the original schedule for the Pittsburgh area has been canceled, to permit the chartered plane to take off Saturday night for New York. Kozlov plans to leave early Monday for Moscow in a Soviet jet transport.

Third In Plane Derby

Steel

The union, which granted a two-week strike truce from July 1 to next Tuesday midnight, rejected a bid Wednesday by President Eisenhower to put off a strike indefinitely.

The union was reliably reported to be banking on a sudden industry offer, or a departure on the part of one or more major steel companies from the solid industry front, to break the negotiating stalemate.

The companies have persisted in maintaining that any new steel labor cost increase would touch off a new wage-price spiral. The union claims the industry can afford higher wages and other concessions. Workers presently average $3.10 per hour earnings.

Formal negotiations lasted only an hour Thursday, recessing to today to let both sides huddle separately to review their positions.

Canton Youth Injured In Cherry Bomb Blast

CANTON—Tom Hershey, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Hershey of Congress Lake, suffered an injured hand Thursday night when a cherry bomb went off prematurely.

He was taken to Mercy Hospital, where he is recuperating nicely, but has lost the tips of the first two fingers of his right hand and suffered a bone fracture.

Tom had found the cherry bomb —a small type of firecracker with high explosive power—and attached a fuse to it to set it off. The fuse burned faster than he had expected and the explosion caught his hand.

His father is an executive with Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

School Reunion Set

PUGHTOWN — The annual reunion of former teachers and pupils of the Pughtown elementary school will be held Wednesday in the basement of the Christian Church. A basket picnic dinner will be served at 1 p. m., Mrs. Fred Miller of New Cumberland announced.

Missing Police Car Was In Good Hands

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — "Who has car four?" Patrolman Vincent Sansone inquired over police radio here after finding the cruiser missing from the department garage.

"I have it," came the answer. Sansone then reminded the officer-driver it was his day off. The officer brought the cruiser in and went home.

Unexpected Dip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Berquist couldn't understand why his wife and child, who had been watching him water ski from his auto on the beach, suddenly joined him in the water and were waving frantically. Then he noticed the car was underwater. The baby had loosened the hand brake. Both were rescued.

MANGUM, Okla. (AP) — Miss Ura Foster, a teacher at Mangum's Edison grade school, noticed that one youngster, David Kirtley, was not taking part in the morning flag salute.

"What's the matter, David, don't you know the words?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am," the 10-year-old replied, "but I'm a Democrat and the flag salute says, 'I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, to the Republicans for which it stands."

which, he said, would give money to wealthy school districts at the expense of poorer districts.

He was especially irked by an amendment adopted on the floor to increase the so-called "flat distribution" from $1,925 to $2,000 for each teacher-classroom unit of 30 pupils. The flat distribution goes to every school district which has taxed itself at least 12½ mills per $100 real estate valuation for school operation.

School districts levying less than 12½ mills for operating purposes would not receive the flat distribution, a lever to force school districts to accept what school leaders consider to be a statewide level of responsibility.

Some districts, with heavy concentrations of industry, already raise enough money to meet school costs without levying as much as 12½ mills.

In addition to the flat distribution, some districts with a low per-pupil real estate valuation, receive additional aid from the state. In cases where a 12½-mill levy, plus regular state aid, fails to cover a district's obligations, the state makes up the difference.

The so-called unit operating allowance was set by the House bill at $1,725 for each teacher - classroom unit. That is a $300 increase from the present $1,425 allowance, but $75 lower than the $1,800 recommended by the House Education Committee.

The school bill as it stands is about 3¼ million dollars above the amount recommended by DiSalle. He told newsmen he has put Senate leaders on notice the bill must be shaved by that amount before it is sent to his desk for approval.

She'll Be More Careful On Inserting Next Ad

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Miss Mona Ging will be more careful the next time she inserts an advertisement in a newspaper.

She ran this one: "College grad wanted to share apt. Swimming pool." She included the address, and this happened:

"So many boys came around or called up," Miss Ging says, "I had to move and change my phone number. I did meet an awful lot of very nice fellows, though."

The party planned to arrive in their chartered DC7B plane at Pittsburgh, about 1 p.m. to be greeted by Frederic Weir, president of the City Council and representative of the University of Pittsburgh.

On the Pittsburgh schedule is a visit to the Homestead works of United States Steel, and a dinner to be given by industrial leaders.

The rest of the original schedule for the Pittsburgh area has been canceled, to permit the chartered plane to take off Saturday night for New York. Kozlov plans to leave early Monday for Moscow in a Soviet jet transport.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Sisters Margo and Sandra Callaway of Wilmington, Ohio, finished third in the coast-to-coast Powder Puff Derby for women airplane pilots. Flying in their Cessna 140, they reached Spokane Tuesday after the 2,470-mile race from Lawrence, Mass. One of their competitors was their mother, Mrs. Margaret Callaway, whose plane was disqualified.

Steel

The union, which granted a two-week strike truce from July 1 to next Tuesday midnight, rejected a bid Wednesday by President Eisenhower to put off a strike indefinitely.

The union was reliably reported to be banking on a sudden industry offer, or a departure on the part of one or more major steel companies from the solid industry front, to break the negotiating stalemate.

The companies have persisted in maintaining that any new steel labor cost increase would touch off a new wage-price spiral. The union claims the industry can afford higher wages and other concessions. Workers presently average $3.10 per hour earnings.

Formal negotiations lasted only an hour Thursday, recessing to today to let both sides huddle separately to review their positions.

Canton Youth Injured In Cherry Bomb Blast

CANTON—Tom Hershey, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Hershey of Congress Lake, suffered an injured hand Thursday night when a cherry bomb went off prematurely.

He was taken to Mercy Hospital, where he is recuperating nicely, but has lost the tips of the first two fingers of his right hand and suffered a bone fracture.

Tom had found the cherry bomb —a small type of firecracker with high explosive power—and attached a fuse to it to set it off. The fuse burned faster than he had expected and the explosion caught his hand.

Packing The Legislative Trunk

Not even the oldest legislative hand gets hardened enough to take the stretch gallop of a General Assembly without sucking air.

The closing days of the 103rd Assembly are a trial for everybody involved in them—the legislators, the State House staff, newspapermen trying to report what is about to be done, undone, or left half-done and the Ohio public hoping to come out of it all with a reasonably good idea of what happened after lightning hit the silo.

Some of the confusion is unavoidable. Even if the Legislature met every year, as many Ohioans feel sure it should whenever they see the spectacle of the biennial windup, there would be no way to keep things orderly and rational in the last few days before sine die adjournment.

It is like packing a trunk for a long journey.

FOR MONTHS before the day to close the trunk finally arrives, it has been possible to put things that are sure to be needed, like a full bottle of aspirin and a fresh tube of toothpaste. But when the packing chore gets down to the last few days, systematic procedure falls apart.

When the job finally is done and the trunk has been closed, no one can be absolutely sure what is or isn't in it. There's nothing left to do then but hope for the best.

In legislative trunk-packing, there's still another problem. A great many people with access to the trunk are hell-bent on putting in some things and taking out others on the semi-sly. They rely on confusion to help them accomplish what they have been hanging around for six months or more to accomplish by hook or crook.

They are masters and manipulators of confusion. Sometimes they are sleight-of-hand artists, to boot. They make things appear and disappear.

AS THEY THINK of it, this is all part and parcel of the legislative process. It is, in the sense that it happens regularly at the close of legislative sessions. There is nothing that can be done about it, but it is not, of course, representative government.

No one can be sure until all the final results have been registered and catalogued what happened to proposals in the closing chaos. Even their own sponsors sometimes lose track of bills they are backing and amendments they are proposing.

It's calculated confusion.

It's why everybody has a feeling of relief when it's over. If it lasted any longer, the alternative would be pure anarchy.

'They're My People!'

Nowhere To Go Past The Summit

Resumption of the Geneva sub-summit conference on Monday will be like warming over the remnants of Sunday dinner for Monday night.

The savor has gone out of the idea of a top-level meeting to settle the fears and hard feelings that have come out of the unsettled problems created by Germany's defeat in World War II.

Though the British can still argue with strong conviction that the only way to get anywhere with Premier Khrushchev is to admit the realism of his political situation—that he must be dealt with as a dictator, not as a parliamentarian — the United States, France and West Germany are in general agreement that until and unless Khrushchev lets Andrei Gromyko show some sign of progress in the foreign ministers' conference at Geneva a summit conference would merely prolong the frustration they have encountered there in the first six weeks.

This view is strengthened by the previous summit meeting with Khrushchev in 1955.

At that time the Russians had shown enough evidence of reasonableness to justify a meeting of foreign ministers to work out a summit agenda. The summit meeting that followed was full of seeming good will, but it was followed by a series of disenchantments that convinced President Eisenhower the Russians never had intended there should be anything else but disenchantment.

It now remains to be found out whether Premier Khrushchev will be willing to make it difficult for the Western Allies to avoid a summit meeting by showing more signs of good will. So far, he has made it easy for all of them but Britain to hold a skeptical position.

The British, who argue that the very fact of Gromyko's "hard" position makes a meeting with Khrushchev imperative, will be doing everything in their power to get to the summit. The United States, France and West Germany, meanwhile, will be doing everything in their power not to be forced to a disappointing summit climax.

The logic of their position is obvious. If forced to a summit climax that turned out disastrously, they would have nowhere else to go. There is nothing beyond the summit to go to. They would be trading uncertainty about success for the certainty of failure.

'Some Of You Yankees Go Home'

President De Gaulle's great mission in politics is to make Frenchmen believe once more in the glory of France.

He has made significant progress.

But no American is finding it easy to understand how the glory of France and the heavy blow struck against the U.S. air bases and personnel assigned to atomic warfare security on French soil go together.

This assuredly is not an instance of proud sons and daughters of a great ally screaming at U.S. soldiers, "Yankees go home!" France does not want all Yankees to go home—just some Yankees.

The motive, therefore, must have to do with fear of atomic warfare, which would put it in the same class with a similar campaign among the British to purge their island of any possibility of atomic contamination through an accident to a nuclear-bomb-bearing airplane, especially with U.S. Air Force markings.

It must be in the same class with the fear in this country of accidental contamination by radioactive materials, or by outright death from the accidental triggering of a bomb.

If so, this would distinguish it from the anti-American feeling that has rubbed Americans raw, in view of what it has cost them to support freedom for allies who otherwise surely would have been gobbled up by Russian expansionism.

Americans never have claimed they were unselfish in this multi-billion-dollar project. Their own frontier in the defense of freedom was wherever freedom was in gravest danger, and nowhere was it threatened more arrogantly that it was in France during the disintegration of the Third Republic.

If it helps the glory of France in its reincarnation under De Gaulle to make things tough for its best friend, the United States can grin and bear it. After all, France is not turning against all Yankees—just those who have been assigned to nuclear retaliation in the event France is put under military attack.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The toughest job of the day must be that of Ingrid Bergman, Roberto Rossellini and Lars Schmidt trying to find out who's who in their matrimonial lives.

An Italian court revoked the Mexican divorce by the Italian director which permitted Ingrid to wed Mr. Schmidt of Sweden. "It cannot be agreed that a couple may in accordance with personal wishes maneuver a divorce in a country where it is easy. The truth is that the Mexican divorce was accepted as valid by Rossellini and his wife because it provided the unwed state necessary for a marriage they desired," said the court.

The $64 questions now bothering all hands are:

1. How many husbands has Ingrid at last count or has she any?

2. Who's ahead, Mexico or Italy? Or will it have to be decided in the Swedish finals?

3. If Ingrid is still the wife of Roberto under Roman law but not under Mexican law how does Lars Schmidt stand? Is he a late scratch or does he come under temporary suspension?

4. If husband No. 2 calls on Ingrid to see his children and husband No. 3 is there, who is the house guest?

5. Will Italy fight Mexico and, if so, how will the U.S. stand? And can Dag Hammarskjold be used?

6. Should Ingrid get a Hollywood Oscar and receive congratulatory messages from both husbands, can either one be regarded as official?

7. Will all the principals now hire new lawyers to sue their old lawyers?

Butler Cites Assets Of Union Movement

By Victor Riesel

(Paul Butler, national chairman of the Democratic party has worked closely with many leaders of labor. He was asked for a frank discussion of the influential labor movement today. Here is Mr. Butler's reply.—Victor Riesel.)

By PAUL M. BUTLER

I am pleased to have this opportunity to fill in for Victor Riesel and to offer a few observations of my own concerning the American labor movement.

One of the most important assets which the American people have in the gigantic struggle taking place today with the Soviet slave system is the strong, free and responsible trade union movement which is made up of the vast majority of American unions, their leaders and their members.

I am constantly impressed with this fact as I talk with visiting political and civic leaders from abroad, especially those from Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America, and watch their amazement and admiration for American trade unionists and what our unions have been able to accomplish, not only for their members, but also for our nation as a whole.

I believe that the true value to our country of the American free labor movement unfortunately is today not fully appreciated by the majority of our people.

THIS IS TRUE for several reasons. One is that a very small minority of irresponsible and immoral so-called union leaders, like Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa, have violated the integrity of certain unions, shocked the American people with their activities and helped to give all of labor an undeserved black eye.

Another reason is that certain big business groups and reactionary political opportunists have seized upon these sensational incidents to try to discredit the entire labor movement by means of an unprecedented propaganda campaign designed, in the name of protecting certain freedoms, to undermine union security and drive a wedge between union members and their leaders.

Finally, so many of the social and economic gains which American unions have been instrumental in achieving during the past several decades have today come to be taken for granted.

IT SEEMS TO ME, if we are to conserve, to strengthen and to derive the maximum benefit from this great asset of responsible, free trade unionism, that the American people should recognize the following facts:

1. The current misguided efforts to restrict union activities to so-called "bread and butter issues" or "business-unionism" is bad, both for unions and for the general public.

A union must be concerned always with obtaining certain economic advantage for its members but its obligation goes beyond that to society as a whole. If the community wants socially responsible union leaders, then it must encourage the development of a social consciousness and interest on the part of the union movement.

Unions quite properly should be concerned with community affairs, schools and other problems of democracy. One of the great problems in those few unions where the most corruption and anti-social conduct has been found is that their leaders generally have been concerned with only the most narrow, selfish aspects of dollars-and-cents unionism.

2. Unions have a legitimate right to security arrangements such as the union shop which make for orderly bargaining, regular union income and equal sharing of the costs for benefits achieved. But, if unions are to be granted these privileges, they have an absolute obligation to operate on a democratic basis, to protect civil liberties, to charge reasonable dues and to offer membership to all qualified applicants on a fair and equal basis.

3. Unions need the aid of reasonable and fair legislation designed to aid decent unions in protecting themselves from and ridding themselves of a few corrupt and anti-social elements within their ranks. The AFL-CIO has done a highly commendable and too little appreciated job in this regard but it is apparent that legislation is needed now to aid in this cause.

It is absolutely essential that Congress enact legislation in this session which will eliminate racketeering and corruption in the labor-management field and guarantee public accountability for union financial operations, without, in fact, undermining or destroying the organized labor movement.

I am sure that the public will take a very dim view of any politician who seeks to kill such needed legislation for any reason.

I am not at all impressed with those business groups who solemnly condemn corruption in labor and then do their best to see that no anti-corruption legislation is passed, simply because they believe that it is not punitive enough toward labor.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT must face their responsibility to keep their houses in order in the public interest and labor leaders are right in insisting that labor alone should not be singled out for special punitive treatment. The true purpose of any legislation must be to preserve the American labor movement for the benefit of our entire nation. Unfortunately, too many proponents of broad labor "reform" have a quite contrary purpose in mind.

4. Finally, the role which the millions of decent, honest union men and women have played in lifting the general level of our society and providing a better life for all Americans should be more fully recognized by the public. Public commendation for the good things, which the responsible leaders of American labor have done, never seems to be as loud as the public condemnation of the evil things a few labor bosses like Hoffa and Beck have wrought.

American labor is entitled to recognition and gratitude for its great achievements and substantial contributions to our way of life for all our citizens.

Only Time Will Tell

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Christian A. Herter—for a secretary of state—is a very frank man. His feelings as he returns to Geneva for talks with the Soviets, he says, might be unfit to print.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who prides himself on being brutally blunt, never outdid that one.

Twice at his news conference Thursday—his first since becoming secretary of state — Herter tried to say he was pessimistic about success in the American-Soviet talks which resume Monday at Geneva.

He didn't actually say he was pessimistic. He just said he wasn't optimistic. Just a short time ago at Geneva he finished six weeks of talks with the Soviets and got nowhere. This next go-round may last weeks, too.

Then one of the 190 newsmen—who crowded into the State Department auditorium to see him perform where his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, had held forth so often—asked him near the end of the 40-minute conference:

"Mr. Secretary, if you could use only one word to describe your feelings as you head back toward Geneva, what would that one word be?"

Herter grinned. Twice he had used lack of optimism as a euphemism for pessimism. He seemed to search his mind an instant for that one word to describe his feelings. Then he said: "It might be unprintable."

That was a directness alien to the mind of Dulles, who died May 24.

The late secretary, a highly successful lawyer, talked like one. He used his great legalistic skill in getting across American viewpoints, stating policy positions and floating trial balloons. He handled his news conference like a stage manager.

But his sentences and his ideas—and this was the lawyer working—were interwoven with qualifications and implications that sometimes had to be dug out like shrapnel from under the skin.

He was a master at leaving the back door open in case he had to retreat.

Yet, unlike the rambling, disconnected, broken sentences and unfinished thoughts of President Eisenhower at a news conference, Dulles' sentences were always, despite twists and turns, grammatically sound and flowing.

So is the sentence structure of Herter, a "proper Bostonian" from Harvard. But Herter is easier to follow. His sentences are shorter, more direct. He has a simplicity Dulles lacked.

Dulles ran the State Department out of his hat. Often he gave an impression of arrogance. Herter, who depends on teamwork, seems a less complicated man of good nature and good will.

He was relaxed Thursday, although crippled by arthritis. He smiled easily, was unpretentious, and it was clear he had done his homework in the three years he has been in the State Department.

The 64-year-old Herter was named under secretary late in 1956. He didn't become secretary until April 22. In between those dates he was completely overshadowed by Dulles and probably thoroughly ignored.

So he had time to learn his job. It showed Thursday when he knew detailed background of American problems in Europe and Asia. Nevertheless, it was a pretty drab news conference.

Herter for the most part — and particularly about his lack of optimism on Geneva—simply was restating what he had said or implied before.

His ease in handling the newsmen is no guarantee he will be a good secretary of state. The proof and the test lie before him: He has 18 months in the job before the Eisenhower administration ends.

So far he has shown very little sign of forcefulness. But that proves nothing—yet. He's not the type anyway to come in with a roar. He has a choice: Follow Dulles' policy or try to break new ground.

Dulles' policy was frozen and in many ways unimaginative: He just followed the Truman-Acheson policy of stiff-arming the Soviets on all fronts. That worked all right so long as the Soviet Union was comparatively weak.

It isn't now. American policy may have to prove far more flexible to meet the changing times, new situations, and increasing belligerence of the Soviets.

On April 20, 1861, Cleveland women assembled to offer their services to the Civil War effort. At the meeting, the Ladies Aid Society was organized, the first of its kind in the country, which became the pattern for war relief.

Party Leadership

By David Lawrence

National Chairman Role Questioned

There's something more fundamental than a mere difference of opinion on party policies in the controversy that has arisen between Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and the two Democratic leaders in Congress — House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas. The real question it raises is whether anyone ought to hold the post of national chairman who is not a member of the leadership group of the party itself in Congress.

David Lawrence

A national chairman nowadays has no responsibility for party policy. He is not a part of the legislative process. Nor is he part of any branch of the government. There was a time when postmasters general did serve as national chairmen and at least this identified them with the President's Cabinet sessions where national policies were discussed. Today, while the Democrats control only Congress, the leaders in the Senate and House do shape party policy nationally.

Plainly it is in Congress where national issues have their origin and where one party or the other must take responsibility for the kind of laws that are passed and for the way the public's money is spent.

A national chairman has no direct connection today with all this and usually uses his time mostly to go around the country working with the party organizations in the various states. But here, too, he is not alone. There are state chairmen who are supposed to build the state organizations.

THE NATIONAL CHAIRMAN is, of course, a mouthpiece of the party but should he be its official leader, too, and what should be his relationship to the elected leaders of the party in Congress?

The Republicans have chosen as their national chairman, Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky. While he isn't the Senate's Republican leader, he is much more identified with Republican policy operations in Congress than his counterpart, Mr. Butler, is with Democratic policy making in the Senate or the House.

In Britain, the two spokesmen for the major parties are part of the governmental apparatus, one being in the cabinet and the other the leader of the opposition party in Parliament.

The true leaders of the major parties today in this country are in the government at Washington. Mr. Eisenhower is the leader of the Republican party, while Messrs. Rayburn and Johnson are really co-chairmen of the Democratic party.

There is every reason why the two national parties should each have as a permanent secretary a man of enough stature in politics to command the attention of state groups. He might be a former member of Congress or a former governor. His work would be to operate the organization through its national headquarters. But policy leadership belongs to the elected spokesmen of the two parties in Congress.

Reform in the national chairmanship situation is long overdue. Party squabbles are unhealthy no matter what their origin.

The creation recently of an "advisory committee" of prominent Democrats was not received with any enthusiasm by the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill.

They frankly said that they didn't feel bound by any advice such a committee might give. The purpose, of course, of the advisory committee was to get publicity for political or ideological viewpoints that, it was felt, would not be reflected by Messrs. Rayburn and Johnson. Yet the device has served only to accentuate differences and to publicize factional strife within the party.

EVERYBODY knows, of course, that there are differences of viewpoint inside the Democratic party between conservatives and the so-called liberals who are really radicals at heart but the disputes that arise are usually with reference to specific items of legislative policy and certainly no setup should bar the free expression of ideas on any subject by any party member.

In the long run, the party leaders in Congress, however, can smooth out differences or invoke enough ambiguous phrases to take care of party platform planks on controversial questions at a national convention.

If America had a parliamentary system of government, its experienced leaders would today be the candidates for president and the Democrats would be certain to choose either Speaker Rayburn or Sen. Lyndon Johnson because they have won top rank in the national legislature. But in America today, where divided government still frustrates national legislation, the only hope of securing some semblance of direct responsibility is, at least, for the major parties to choose as their respective national chairmen either the House or the Senate leader. Then a general secretary could be appointed to take over the actual operation of the party organizations.

Steel, once an expensive rarity, is now the basic metal of modern life.

World steel production last year was 301 million tons. The United States held its position as the leading producer by turning out 85 million tons. The record year was 1955 when 117 million tons were produced.

There are more than 300 steel-making companies in the United States with a total capacity of 148 million tons a year. Surprisingly, the world's largest steel plant is not in Pittsburgh, but at Sparrows Point, Maryland. It can manufacture 8,200,000 tons a year.

The Sparrows Point mill produces in one hour almost three times the annual output of the first successful American iron works at Saugus, Massachusetts. The Saugus plant initiated the domestic iron and steel industry in 1644 by pouring iron to cast small cooking pots.

Packing The Legislative Trunk

Not even the oldest legislative hand gets hardened enough to take the stretch gallop of a General Assembly without sucking air.

The closing days of the 103rd Assembly are a trial for everybody involved in them—the legislators, the State House staff, newspapermen trying to report what is about to be done, undone, or left half-done and the Ohio public hoping to come out of it all with a reasonably good idea of what happened after lightning hit the silo.

Some of the confusion is unavoidable. Even if the Legislature met every year, as many Ohioans feel sure it should whenever they see the spectacle of the biennial windup, there would be no way to keep things orderly and rational in the last few days before sine die adjournment.

It is like packing a trunk for a long journey.

FOR MONTHS before the day to close the trunk finally arrives, it has been possible to put things that are sure to be needed, like a full bottle of aspirin and a fresh tube of toothpaste. But when the packing chore gets down to the last few days, systematic procedure falls apart.

When the job finally is done and the trunk has been closed, no one can be absolutely sure what is or isn't in it. There's nothing left to do then but hope for the best.

In legislative trunk-packing, there's still another problem. A great many people with access to the trunk are hell-bent on putting in some things and taking out others on the semi-sly. They rely on confusion to help them accomplish what they have been hanging around for six months or more to accomplish by hook or crook.

They are masters and manipulators of confusion. Sometimes they are sleight-of-hand artists, to boot. They make things appear and disappear.

AS THEY THINK of it, this is all part and parcel of the legislative process. It is, in the sense that it happens regularly at the close of legislative sessions. There is nothing that can be done about it, but it is not, of course, representative government.

No one can be sure until all the final results have been registered and catalogued what happened to proposals in the closing chaos. Even their own sponsors sometimes lose track of bills they are backing and amendments they are proposing.

It's calculated confusion.

It's why everybody has a feeling of relief when it's over. If it lasted any longer, the alternative would be pure anarchy.

Nowhere To Go Past The Summit

Resumption of the Geneva sub-summit conference on Monday will be like warming over the remnants of Sunday dinner for Monday night.

The savor has gone out of the idea of a top-level meeting to settle the fears and hard feelings that have come out of the unsettled problems created by Germany's defeat in World War II.

Though the British can still argue with strong conviction that the only way to get anywhere with Premier Khrushchev is to admit the realism of his political situation—that he must be dealt with as a dictator, not as a parliamentarian — the United States, France and West Germany are in general agreement that until and unless Khrushchev lets Andrei Gromyko show some sign of progress in the foreign ministers' conference at Geneva a summit conference would merely prolong the frustration they have encountered there in the first six weeks.

This view is strengthened by the previous summit meeting with Khrushchev in 1955.

At that time the Russians had shown enough evidence of reasonableness to justify a meeting of foreign ministers to work out a summit agenda. The summit meeting that followed was full of seeming good will, but it was followed by a series of disenchantments that convinced President Eisenhower the Russians never had intended there should be anything else but disenchantment.

It now remains to be found out whether Premier Khrushchev will be willing to make it difficult for the Western Allies to avoid a summit meeting by showing more signs of good will. So far, he has made it easy for all of them but Britain to hold a skeptical position.

The British, who argue that the very fact of Gromyko's "hard" position makes a meeting with Khrushchev imperative, will be doing everything in their power to get to the summit. The United States, France and West Germany, meanwhile, will be doing everything in their power not to be forced to a disappointing summit climax.

The logic of their position is obvious. If forced to a summit climax that turned out disastrously, they would have nowhere else to go. There is nothing beyond the summit to go to. They would be trading uncertainty about success for the certainty of failure.

'Some Of You Yankees Go Home'

President De Gaulle's great mission in politics is to make Frenchmen believe once more in the glory of France.

He has made significant progress.

But no American is finding it easy to understand how the glory of France and the heavy blow struck against the U.S. air bases and personnel assigned to atomic warfare security on French soil go together.

This assuredly is not an instance of proud sons and daughters of a great ally screaming at U.S. soldiers, "Yankees go home!" France does not want all Yankees to go home—just some Yankees.

The motive, therefore, must have to do with fear of atomic warfare, which would put it in the same class with a similar campaign among the British to purge their island of any possibility of atomic contamination through an accident to a nuclear-bomb-bearing airplane, especially with U.S. Air Force markings.

It must be in the same class with the fear in this country of accidental contamination by radioactive materials, or by outright death from the accidental triggering of a bomb.

If so, this would distinguish it from the anti-American feeling that has rubbed Americans raw, in view of what it has cost them to support freedom for allies who otherwise surely would have been gobbled up by Russian expansionism.

Americans never have claimed they were unselfish in this multi-billion-dollar project. Their own frontier in the defense of freedom was wherever freedom was in gravest danger, and nowhere was it threatened more arrogantly that it was in France during the disintegration of the Third Republic.

If it helps the glory of France in its reincarnation under De Gaulle to make things tough for its best friend, the United States can grin and bear it. After all, France is not turning against all Yankees—just those who have been assigned to nuclear retaliation in the event France is put under military attack.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The toughest job of the day must be that of Ingrid Bergman, Roberto Rossellini and Lars Schmidt trying to find out who's who in their matrimonial lives.

An Italian court revoked the Mexican divorce by the Italian director which permitted Ingrid to wed Mr. Schmidt of Sweden. "It cannot be agreed that a couple may in accordance with personal wishes maneuver a divorce in a country where it is easy. The truth is that the Mexican divorce was accepted as valid by Rossellini and his wife because it provided the unwed state necessary for a marriage they desired," said the court.

The $64 questions now bothering all hands are:

1. How many husbands has Ingrid at last count or has she any?

2. Who's ahead, Mexico or Italy? Or will it have to be decided in the Swedish finals?

3. If Ingrid is still the wife of Roberto under Roman law but not under Mexican law how does Lars Schmidt stand? Is he a late scratch or does he come under temporary suspension?

4. If husband No. 2 calls on Ingrid to see his children and husband No. 3 is there, who is the house guest?

5. Will Italy fight Mexico and, if so, how will the U.S. stand? And can Dag Hammarskjold be used?

6. Should Ingrid get a Hollywood Oscar and receive congratulatory messages from both husbands, can either one be regarded as official?

7. Will all the principals now hire new lawyers to sue their old lawyers?

'They're My People!'

Butler Cites Assets Of Union Movement

By Victor Riesel

(Paul Butler, national chairman of the Democratic party has worked closely with many leaders of labor. He was asked for a frank discussion of the influential labor movement today. Here is Mr. Butler's reply.—Victor Riesel.)

By PAUL M. BUTLER

I am pleased to have this opportunity to fill in for Victor Riesel and to offer a few observations of my own concerning the American labor movement.

One of the most important assets which the American people have in the gigantic struggle taking place today with the Soviet slave system is the strong, free and responsible trade union movement which is made up of the vast majority of American unions, their leaders and their members.

I am constantly impressed with this fact as I talk with visiting political and civic leaders from abroad, especially those from Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America, and watch their amazement and admiration for American trade unionists and what our unions have been able to accomplish, not only for their members, but also for our nation as a whole.

I believe that the true value to our country of the American free labor movement unfortunately is today not fully appreciated by the majority of our people.

THIS IS TRUE for several reasons. One is that a very small minority of irresponsible and immoral so-called union leaders, like Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa, have violated the integrity of certain unions, shocked the American people with their activities and helped to give all of labor an undeserved black eye.

Another reason is that certain big business groups and reactionary political opportunists have seized upon these sensational incidents to try to discredit the entire labor movement by means of an unprecedented propaganda campaign designed, in the name of protecting certain freedoms, to undermine union security and drive a wedge between union members and their leaders.

Finally, so many of the social and economic gains which American unions have been instrumental in achieving during the past several decades have today come to be taken for granted.

IT SEEMS TO ME, if we are to conserve, to strengthen and to derive the maximum benefit from this great asset of responsible, free trade unionism, that the American people should recognize the following facts:

1. The current misguided efforts to restrict union activities to so-called "bread and butter issues" or "business-unionism" is bad, both for unions and for the general public.

A union must be concerned always with obtaining certain economic advantage for its members but its obligation goes beyond that to society as a whole. If the community wants socially responsible union leaders, then it must encourage the development of a social consciousness and interest on the part of the union movement.

Unions quite properly should be concerned with community affairs, schools and other problems of democracy. One of the great problems in those few unions where the most corruption and anti-social conduct has been found is that their leaders generally have been concerned with only the most narrow, selfish aspects of dollars-and-cents unionism.

2. Unions have a legitimate right to security arrangements such as the union shop which make for orderly bargaining, regular union income and equal sharing of the costs for benefits achieved. But, if unions are to be granted these privileges, they have an absolute obligation to operate on a democratic basis, to protect civil liberties, to charge reasonable dues and to offer membership to all qualified applicants on a fair and equal basis.

3. Unions need the aid of reasonable and fair legislation designed to aid decent unions in protecting themselves from and ridding themselves of a few corrupt and anti-social elements within their ranks. The AFL-CIO has done a highly commendable and too little appreciated job in this regard but it is apparent that legislation is needed now to aid in this cause.

It is absolutely essential that Congress enact legislation in this session which will eliminate racketeering and corruption in the labor-management field and guarantee public accountability for union financial operations, without, in fact, undermining or destroying the organized labor movement.

I am sure that the public will take a very dim view of any politician who seeks to kill such needed legislation for any reason.

I am not at all impressed with those business groups who solemnly condemn corruption in labor and then do their best to see that no anti-corruption legislation is passed, simply because they believe that it is not punitive enough toward labor.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT must face their responsibility to keep their houses in order in the public interest and labor leaders are right in insisting that labor alone should not be singled out for special punitive treatment. The true purpose of any legislation must be to preserve the American labor movement for the benefit of our entire nation. Unfortunately, too many proponents of broad labor "reform" have a quite contrary purpose in mind.

4. Finally, the role which the millions of decent, honest union men and women have played in lifting the general level of our society and providing a better life for all Americans should be more fully recognized by the public. Public commendation for the good things, which the responsible leaders of American labor have done, never seems to be as loud as the public condemnation of the evil things a few labor bosses like Hoffa and Beck have wrought.

American labor is entitled to recognition and gratitude for its great achievements and substantial contributions to our way of life for all our citizens.

Only Time Will Tell

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Christian A. Herter—for a secretary of state—is a very frank man. His feelings as he returns to Geneva for talks with the Soviets, he says, might be unfit to print.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who prides himself on being brutally blunt, never outdid that one.

Twice at his news conference Thursday—his first since becoming secretary of state — Herter tried to say he was pessimistic about success in the American-Soviet talks which resume Monday at Geneva.

He didn't actually say he was pessimistic. He just said he wasn't optimistic. Just a short time ago at Geneva he finished six weeks of talks with the Soviets and got nowhere. This next go-round may last weeks, too.

Then one of the 190 newsmen—who crowded into the State Department auditorium to see him perform where his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, had held forth so often—asked him near the end of the 40-minute conference:

"Mr. Secretary, if you could use only one word to describe your feelings as you head back toward Geneva, what would that one word be?".

Herter grinned. Twice he had used lack of optimism as a euphemism for pessimism. He seemed to search his mind an instant for that one word to describe his feelings. Then he said: "It might be unprintable."

That was a directness alien to the mind of Dulles, who died May 24.

The late secretary, a highly successful lawyer, talked like one. He used his great legalistic skill in getting across American viewpoints, stating policy positions and floating trial balloons. He handled his news conference like a stage manager.

But his sentences and his ideas —and this was the lawyer working—were interwoven with qualifications and implications that sometimes had to be dug out like shrapnel from under the skin.

He was a master at leaving the back door open in case he had to retreat.

Yet, unlike the rambling, disconnected, broken sentences and unfinished thoughts of President Eisenhower at a news conference, Dulles' sentences were always, despite twists and turns, grammatically sound and flowing.

So is the sentence structure of Herter, a "proper Bostonian" from Harvard. But Herter is easier to follow. His sentences are shorter, more direct. He has a simplicity Dulles lacked.

Dulles ran the State Department out of his hat. Often he gave an impression of arrogance. Herter, who depends on teamwork, seems a less complicated man of good nature and good will.

He was relaxed Thursday, although crippled by arthritis. He smiled easily, was unpretentious, and it was clear he had done his homework in the three years he has been in the State Department.

The 64-year-old Herter was named under secretary late in 1956. He didn't become secretary until April 22. In between those dates he was completely overshadowed by Dulles and probably thoroughly ignored.

So he had time to learn his job. It showed Thursday when he knew detailed background of American problems in Europe and Asia. Nevertheless, it was a pretty drab news conference.

Herter for the most part — and particularly about his lack of optimism on Geneva—simply was restating what he had said or implied before.

His ease in handling the newsmen is no guarantee he will be a good secretary of state. The proof and the test lie before him: He has 18 months in the job before the Eisenhower administration ends.

So far he has shown very little sign of forcefulness. But that proves nothing—yet. He's not the type anyway to come in with a roar. He has a choice: Follow Dulles' policy or try to break new ground.

Dulles' policy was frozen and in many ways unimaginative: He just followed the Truman-Acheson policy of stiff-arming the Soviets on all fronts. That worked all right so long as the Soviet Union was comparatively weak.

It isn't now. American policy may have to prove far more flexible to meet the changing times, new situations, and increasing belligerence of the Soviets.

On April 20, 1861, Cleveland women assembled to offer their services to the Civil War effort. At the meeting, the Ladies Aid Society was organized, the first of its kind in the country, which became the pattern for war relief.

Party Leadership

By David Lawrence

National Chairman Role Questioned

There's something more fundamental than a mere difference of opinion on party policies in the controversy that has arisen between Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and the two Democratic leaders in Congress — House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas. The real question it raises is whether anyone ought to hold the post of national chairman who is not a member of the leadership group of the party itself in Congress.

David Lawrence

A national chairman nowadays has no responsibility for party policy. He is not a part of the legislative process. Nor is he part of any branch of the government. Underwood Gives Views On Visit To Soviet Union

CHARLESTON (AP) — "I had the feeling that some of those cameramen were secret police. They never left us."

Gov. Underwood was talking about several Russian photographers. Supposedly filming the tour, they stuck close to Underwood and the eight other U.S. governors with whom he visited the Soviet Union.

Because of prior commitments, Underwood and Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois cut short their trip and returned to this country last weekend. The other governors are still in Russia.

Underwood was in the USSR 10 days, visiting Moscow, Leingrad, Kiev and nearby areas. Yesterday, he held his first news conference since his return. Like any other American just back from his first trip abroad, the 36-year-old governor enjoyed talking about it.

Unless the ever - present photographers were secret police — and Underwood was only half serious about the possibility — the visiting governors saw "very little evidence of policemen or the military."

"We all moved about with a great deal more freedom than we expected," Underwood said. The only things the visitors were asked not to photograph were the bodies of Lenin and Stalin, which lie in a tomb open to the public in Moscow's Red Square, and a jewel collection in a museum in Leningrad.

"We were allowed to take pictures in the atomic energy plant 80 miles from Moscow. I don't know what pictures of that place could reveal anyway."

Underwood thought maybe the full round of activity was intended to leave the governors too little time to see anything but what the Russians wanted them to see. But he remarked that U. S. officials probably would arrange a tour in the same way for visitors to this country.

"We had very full schedules. It reminded me a lot of campaigning."

Did the Russian people seem contented? "The people appeared pretty well satisfied. They seemed happy," Underwood said.

Private citizens encountered by the governors were exceedingly friendly and very curious about America.

"All you have to do is say 'Amerikanski' and you're about mobbed."

The governor sized up the apparent contentment this way. The older generation remembers two world wars and the Bolshevik Revolution. Many young adults of today were among the children evacuated from ravaged cities during World War II. Both groups have reason to find the present happier than the past.

Today, care and education of Russian children have a top priority in the Soviet government's spending, Underwood said. If there is internal discontent in Russia's future, Underwood thinks it "may come when children who have had everything grow up and want more."

What about the economy? Was there any sign of private enterprise of any kind? Underwood explained how a farmer on a collective farm is allowed a small plot of his own. On it he may build a home and what he raises there is his to use or sell as he wishes.

"That was the only thing I saw that resembled private enterprises at all. . .

2 West Virginia Laws Clarified On Auto Buying

CHARLESTON (AP) — Motor Vehicles Commissioner Hubert Kelly Thursday clarified two new state laws on automobile purchases which he said were causing some confusion.

One is the 2 per cent privilege tax on vehicles bought out-of-state and used as trade-ins on other cars within the state. The other is the requirement that titles be sent to lien holders rather than purchasers. Both went into effect July 1.

Kelly said his office has received inquiries from purchasers wanting to know if the 2 per cent privilege tax law applied to trade-ins bought before July 1.

Kelly said that it does because the transaction on which the tax is based is on the registration of new purchases. Therefore, he said, the tax applied to all titles issued after July 1.

As for the disposition of titles, Kelly said they formerly went to the purchasers with the lien holders identified on them.

Now, Kelly said, it is up to the car dealer and the purchaser to identify the lien holder, if any, when the application is filed.

If this information is not on the application, it is sent back to the applicant, the car buyer, and slows down the entire process of issuing titles, the commissioner said.

Liquor Department Shows 4 City Permit Requests Pending

Robert J. Freed and Pete Commarata have applications on file with the State Department of Liquor Control for D-3 permits—sale of wine and liquor on the premises—in East Liverpool, a quarterly report of priority lists and quotas showed today.

American Legion Post 4 has an application on file for a D-4 permit — sale by private club—while Don A. Gruver has an application on file for a D-5 permit — sale of beer, liquor and wine for on-premises consumption until 2:30 a. m.

The quota of 14 D-3 permits, 14 D-5 permits and 12 D-4 permits for the city is currently filled and there are no openings.

Others having applications on file throughout the county are Nicholas Rivelle, Mary Lula Thornton and Rose Daddario for a D-3 permit at Wellsville (quota of 5 currently filled), Frank Howard for a D-3 permit at East Palestine (quota of 3 filled).

Carl Sutcliffe and Daniel Guappone for a D-3 permit at Lisbon (quota of 2 filled) and American Legion Post 275 for a D-4 permit at Lisbon (quota of 2 filled); Steve Cosgarea, Leonte Copacia, Barbara Miksic, Stephen Cibula and Emily Cibula for a D-3 permit at Salem (quota of 8 filled), and Buckeye Taverns, George Bodnira and George Bodnira Jr. for a D-5 permit at Salem (quota of 8 filled).

Clyde Donnalley, Alvin T. Johnson and Gale Combs have applications for D-5 permits in the rest of the county where there are 11 openings in the quota of 13.

James Fusco has filed an application for a D-2 permit at Wellsville for the sale of liquor, wine and bottled cocktails on and off the premises. There are two openings in the quota of 15.

The report on applicants and quotas is the second issued by Director Richard Crouch in a move to prevent unscrupulous individuals from duping permit applicants into paying fees for 'expediting" issuance of permits, which were scheduled to be issued in a legal and normal manner.

There are no quotas on C-1 or C-2 permits, commonly called beer and wine carry-out licenses.

Army To Try Jupiter For Satellite Bid

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army's versatile Jupiter missile, another successful 1,500-mile trip under its belt, now turns its attention to satellite launching.

A 60-foot intermediate range Jupiter roared aloft Thursday night and dumped a simulated warhead on a target area off the downrage island of Antigua.

Just a short distance from the latest launching, technicians are preparing a giant four-stage Juno II rocket for a satellite attempt expected the middle of this month.

A Jupiter forms the first stage of the 76-foot missile.

Riding in the nose cone of the Juno II will be this nation's biggest and most complex scientific satellite to date. It is a 91½-pound vehicle designed to perform at least six experiments in space. Among them are a study of the high radiation belt surrounding the earth and several weather probes.

Satellite boosting will be a new assignment for the Jupiter, which has logged 17 successful shots in war weapons tests. It also served as the first stage for space probes Pioneer III and IV and carried monkeys Able and Baker on their historic trip into space and back May 28.

Missile Expert Warns Of 'Dangerous Trap'

HONOLULU (AP) — Wernher Von Braun, Army missile expert, says the United States "can fall into a dangerous trap" in the missile race with Russia "if we persist in looking back to see how fast the other fellow is running."

"It behooves us to run just as fast as we can and let him worry about keeping pace," Von Braun told a meeting Thursday night of the Assn. of the United States Army, an officer organization.

Missile Expert Warns Of 'Dangerous Trap'

HONOLULU (AP) — Wernher Von Braun, Army missile expert, says the United States "can fall into a dangerous trap" in the missile race with Russia "if we persist in looking back to see how fast the other fellow is running."

"It behooves us to run just as fast as we can and let him worry about keeping pace," Von Braun told a meeting Thursday night of the Assn. of the United States Army, an officer organization.

Army To Try Jupiter For Satellite Bid

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army's versatile Jupiter missile, another successful 1,500-mile trip under its belt, now turns its attention to satellite launching.

A 60-foot intermediate range Jupiter roared aloft Thursday night and dumped a simulated warhead on a target area off the downrage island of Antigua.

Just a short distance from the latest launching, technicians are preparing a giant four-stage Juno II rocket for a satellite attempt expected the middle of this month.

A Jupiter forms the first stage of the 76-foot missile.

Riding in the nose cone of the Juno II will be this nation's biggest and most complex scientific satellite to date. It is a 91½-pound vehicle designed to perform at least six experiments in space. Among them are a study of the high radiation belt surrounding the earth and several weather probes.

Satellite boosting will be a new assignment for the Jupiter, which has logged 17 successful shots in war weapons tests. It also served as the first stage for space probes Pioneer III and IV and carried monkeys Able and Baker on their historic trip into space and back May 28.

Chief Justice Weygandt Makes Plea To Bar Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court has asked the Fairfield County Bar Assn. to seek a way to end delays in the judicial process in the county's Common Pleas Court.

The chief justice conducted a hearing Thursday on an affidavit of bias and prejudice filed by attorney Albert E. Savoy of Lancaster against Judge Harry Kilburger of Fairfield County Common Pleas court.

The attorney complained that he submitted a motion last Nov. 22 to strike the reply made by another attorney in a civil action. To date, Savoy said, he has had no indication of the court's ruling on the motion, although he asked Judge Kilburger several times.

In his letter to attorney Ralph K. Rockwood, president of the county bar association, Justice Weygandt wrote:

"However, it developed generally that in many cases there has been an inordinate delay in securing a trial or even a decision on preliminary motions. In attempting to be of constructive assistance in solving this serious difficulty, I am making a suggestion which has met with the approval of counsel.

"It is that a committee of your association immediately study the situation and confer with Judge Kilburger for the purpose of learning whether some solution can be discovered."

Justice Weygandt continued the hearing for 30 days, and asked the bar association to advise him in that time "what, if any, progress has been made."

In Thursday's hearing, Savoy declared that "this is no personal feud between myself and this (Fairfield County common pleas) court as far as I am concerned. I am only here to try and clear up a problem."

Savoy suggested part of the answer might lie in the court's using its time "a little more efficiently," declaring:

"I think we have a right to complain when our cases are called at 9 o'clock in the morning and the judge ascends the bench at 10 or later without a word of apology."

Judge Kilburger pointed out that attorneys frequently ask for time to try and effect a settlement even after the matter is in court, and Savoy agreed that attorneys were not entirely blameless.

Two Lancaster attorneys who represented Judge Kilburger, E. A. Silbaugh and Abram Cunix, said the Common Pleas Court's docket "is somewhat in arrears, but we are making a sincere effort to clear up that situation."

One solution, Justice Weygandt said, might be to assign another non-resident judge to help with the work. Judge Kilburger is presently assisted by another judge two days a week.

California Wife Captures Powder Puff Plane Derby

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — "Women would probably feel a lot more relaxed if they got out of the kitchen once in awhile and up into the air."

That's the opinion of Aileen Saunders, pretty pilot winner of the 1959 Powder Puff Derby—the transcontinental air race for women.

"Flying gets to be second nature after awhile, like sweeping the floors or pinning baby's diaper," remarked the three-time derby veteran. "But even so it's a big thrill to be up there, always invigorating.

"I guess winning this race makes me about the happiest woman in the world. I'm just thrilled to death."

Mrs. Saunders, wife of a California building contractor, flew the 2,470 mile race in a Cessna 142 owned by her husband. She credits him for her victory.

"If it weren't for Walter (hubby) I probably wouldn't even know how to fly. I used to accompany him on business trips, finally four years ago he let me take the controls and now says I'm a better flyer than he is. He's only trying to tease me though."

Some 120 pilots and copilots flew the 13th annual derby in ships ranging from 85 to 300 horsepower.

Mrs. Saunders who is 32, got married at 16. "Now I'm teaching my 15-year-old son to fly."

Derby officials said the Saunders' 145 h.p. ship flew at an average of 111.53 miles per hour. Placement ratings were computed on a handicap basis with capability and elapsed flying time taken into account.

Swiss Guide Relates Story Of Recovering Man's Body

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP)—"I had to go and get him down. I could not stand the sight of it anymore.

"For two years I had the vision of the body suspended on the wall before me. Every time my eyes turned toward the Eiger, I had the terrible vision of this abandoned body. It became a kind of obsession with me.

"As a guide and a Christian, I had to do something. That is why I volunteered."

This was Adolf Jaun's explanation of his perilous descent Thursday on a steel cable to remove the body of Stefano Longhi, who died two years ago trying to scale the north face of 13,000-foot Mt. Eiger.

Longhi and another Italian mountaineer, Claudio Corti, went to the Eiger on Aug. 3, 1957, and had climbed together for a week before their fall. Both were pinned to the mountain face, hanging by their climbing ropes.

Ski planes flew winches and steel cables to the top of the Eiger, and a guide was lowered. Corti was hauled up Aug. 11, but a violent blizzard stopped rescuers from going after Longhi. The next day observers scanned the vertical rock wall with telescopes and found the 44-year-old Italian had died during the night.

Attempts then to recover the body were abandoned because of the extreme danger. But the body at times could be seen clearly from Grindelwald and the surrounding valley. A Dutch newspaper offered to finance a new recovery attempt.

Again winches and cables were flown to the peak and set up by a group of 15 Swiss guides. Jaun volunteered and swinging precariously from the steel cable, he made the recovery in a shower of brittle granite. The body had been perfectly preserved by the cold.

Sale Of Sylvan Hotel Must Await Appraisal

Appraisal of the condemned Sylvan Hotel structure on E. 2nd St. is scheduled before a date can be set for a sheriff's sale for delinquent taxes, Sheriff Russell VanFossan said today at Lisbon.

The decrepit building, on which Eugene Breakstone of Chicago owes $2,000 in taxes as owner, is due to go on the block with the stipulation it be razed by the new owner. The state fire marshal's office ordered the structure torn down last year.

Drunk Driving Case Dropped

Drunk driving charges against a St. Clair Ave. couple were withdrawn Thursday in Municipal Court, but the man and wife were fined $100 and costs each on two other charges.

St. Clair Township Constable Clarence Blosser withdrew the drunk driving counts against George Philabaum, 68, and his wife, Thelma, 52, of 728 St. Clair Ave., ending a possible legal question on whether Philabaum, who was at the wheel of a truck being towed by another truck driven by his wife, could be charged under the drunk driving law.

Judge George L. Brokaw fined Philabaum $100 and costs for driving without an operator's permit and his wife was fined a similar amount for assaulting the constable with a hammer, dislocating the little finger of his left hand.

The judge suspended $75 of each fine with the provision the couple "obey all laws for a year."

They were arrested Wednesday night by Blosser after Mrs. Philabaum drove a pickup truck over a 10-foot embankment on their former property near Columbiana County Memorial Park now owned by Mrs. Nina Show. She was towing the panel truck steered by her husband at the time.

During the argument that followed, Mrs. Philabaum, at her husband's urging, struck the constable on the hand with the hammer, Blosser said.

Atty. W. S. Foulks represented the Philabaums while Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark prosecuted the case.

Long's Aides Map Details For Governor's Vacation

WINNFIELD, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long visited on his farm here today as his aides apparently took care of last minute details for his proposed vacation tour. He was expected to leave on the trip later today.

Long, continuing to ignore doctors' advice to remain quiet, drove to Winnfield from Baton Rouge Thursday night.

The trip of approximately 250 miles took about 4½ hours. Several state police cars escorted him into town early today. Long went immediately to bed in his tin-roofed farm house.

The governor stopped en route at a restaurant in Krotz Springs owned by State Rep. Frank Diesei.

Ken Lane, news director of radio station WLCS in Baton Rouge, observed Long at Diese's restaurant but wasn't allowed to question him.

Lane said the governor appeared in good spirits and, contrary to some reports, didn't look like a dying man. Long stayed in the car during his 45-minute stopover at Krotz Springs. He chatted with Diesei, State Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa and J. J. Artell, president of the Red River and Atchafalaya Levee District.

Long laughed and joked quite a bit, Lane said.

Rayburn said he expected the governor to take off today on the tour that may reach into Mexico and Canada.

Long's aides did not reveal the exact itinerary. There were indications he would drive to Shreveport today and leave from there for Austin or Fort Worth, Tex. The tour is expected to include Tucson or Phoenix, Ariz., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Death Valley, Portland, Seattle, Canada, the Dakotas and back home by way of St. Louis.

Long probably will make most of the trip by air.

The governor still apparently plans to call a special legislative session when he returns. Either Aug. 4 or 10 is considered the likely date for the opening of the session.

Meanwhile, the public has no way of knowing just how sick Long is.

Rep. Lloyd Teekell, whom Long vainly supported for Congress last year, visited the governor at the mansion Thursday.

Teekell described Long as a very sick man who is growing weaker. But the state legislator emphasized he spoke as a layman. He said professional ethics limited the doctors in their reports to the public on Long's condition.

A. A. Fredericks, the governor's executive secretary, and Dr. Robert Heath of Tulane University, one of the top men on the team of doctors that has been checking the governor, disagreed on Long's condition.

Fredericks said Long was so improved the doctors had left him unattended. Heath denied this and said the doctors were sticking by their statement of Wednesday that Long was showing signs of fatigue.

New Cutback On Missiles To Save U.S. 1½ Billion

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's new cutback on Army and Air Force antiaircraft missiles will cut about 1½ billion dollars from planned missile spending over a period of years, Congress has been told.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans said that reduction would be offset partly by a 137-million-dollar increase for the Army's Nike-Zeus, an antimissile missile still being developed.

Figures Stans gave to the Senate's Defense Preparedness subcommittee last month showed a 108-million-dollar saving for the fiscal year which ended June 30, and another 81 millions in the current fiscal year. The remainder of the cut will be spread over a period of four or five years in the future.

Stans' testimony, made public Thursday night, listed these spending changes under the master plan:

Nike-Hercules — In the aggregate, a reduction of 469 million dollars in the program, representing a reduction of 16 squadrons. The Army missile has a range of up to 100 miles and carries an atomic warhead.

Bomarc — The reduction was 740 million dollars over the life of the program, with a reduction of 16 squadrons. The Air Force supersonic interceptor missile will have an eventual range of 400 miles.

Nike-Zeus — An increase of 137 million dollars in the Army missile designed to knock down enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

SAGE Direction and Combat Centers — The reduction was 49 million dollars. SAGE is a major defense communications network. There was no reduction in the number of centers, but two of the planned centers will not be built.

A net reduction of 180 million dollars was shown for radar equipment.

Target Shooter Fined

WEIRTON — Wilbert F. Wentz, 43, of 503 Garden Way, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland today by Municipal Judge Norman Ferrari Jr. Police arrested Wentz for discharging firearms within the Weirton city limits. Police said he was having target practice with a .22 caliber rifle and a double-barreled shotgun.

Youngstown Gambler Has More Trouble

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Jasper (Fats) Aiello, 48-year-old Youngstown gambling figure who is free on bond in Trumbull County on an armed robbery charge, is in more trouble.

He was arrested Thursday and charged with violating Ohio's banking laws. The warrant was signed by John Ranz, an attorney, who charges Aiello signed a check for $28,500 on a Niles bank last March 27, but didn't have the money to cover it.

Ranz said Aiello agreed to repay the money, but has returned only $3,500. Ranz added, "Now its all excuses he is giving and we haven't collected another cent."

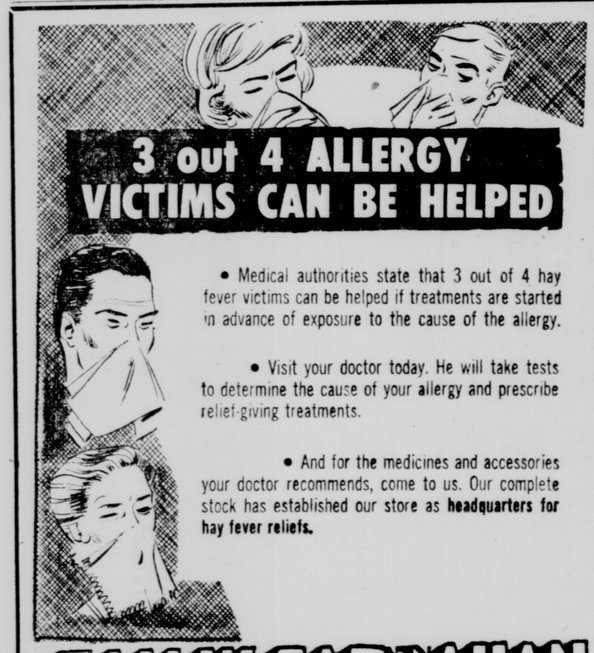

Aiello cashed the check at the Youngstown Union National Bank. The teller, James Ruble, has since been discharged. Ranz said the teller cashed the check without determining whether Aiello had a checking account or money in the bank.

Aiello has been free on $37,500 bond in Trumbull County since May 26. He was charged in connection with breaking and entering, in addition to the armed robbery count. The indictments cover a robbery and a series of burglaries in Warren over a three-year period.

Grange Event Awaited

LISBON — Over 40 are expected to attend a 50th anniversary dinner and program of the Elkrun Grange Sunday afternoon at 1 at the Grange Hall. Gold and silver certificates will be presented. All members, former members and friends are invited, Don Eckert of East Liverpool, master, said.

Nike-Zeus — An increase of 137 million dollars in the Army missile designed to knock down enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

SAGE Direction and Combat Centers — The reduction was 49 million dollars. SAGE is a major defense communications network. There was no reduction in the number of centers, but two of the planned centers will not be built.

A net reduction of 180 million dollars was shown for radar equipment.

Target Shooter Fined

WEIRTON — Wilbert F. Wentz, 43, of 503 Garden Way, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland today by Municipal Judge Norman Ferrari Jr. Police arrested Wentz for discharging firearms within the Weirton city limits. Police said he was having target practice with a .22 caliber rifle and a double-barreled shotgun.

Youngstown Gambler Has More Trouble

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Jasper (Fats) Aiello, 48-year-old Youngstown gambling figure who is free on bond in Trumbull County on an armed robbery charge, is in more trouble.

He was arrested Thursday and charged with violating Ohio's banking laws. The warrant was signed by John Ranz, an attorney, who charges Aiello signed a check for $28,500 on a Niles bank last March 27, but didn't have the money to cover it.

Ranz said Aiello agreed to repay the money, but has returned only $3,500. Ranz added, "Now its all excuses he is giving and we haven't collected another cent."

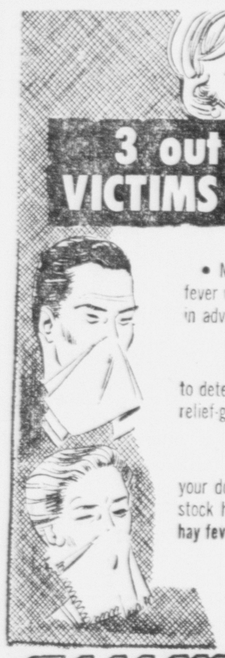

Aiello cashed the check at the Youngstown Union National Bank. The teller, James Ruble, has since been discharged. Ranz said the teller cashed the check without determining whether Aiello had a checking account or money in the bank.

Aiello has been free on $37,500 bond in Trumbull County since May 26. He was charged in connection with breaking and entering, in addition to the armed robbery count. The indictments cover a robbery and a series of burglaries in Warren over a three-year period.

In Case Involving Ex-State Senator

Judge Claims DiSalle Misinformed

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A municipal judge here says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle "has been misinformed and is mistaken as to what transpired" in a court case involving former state Sen. Oakley C. Collins.

The governor has indicated that perjury was committed. He said he has two witnesses who swear that a former state employe, Orville Elias, identified himself at the court hearing as Ren Logan.

Logan, a deputy inspector in the state Division of Factories and Buildings, was in New Orleans when the hearing was conducted last April, DiSalle said.

The governor further asserted at his news conference Thursday that his two witnesses are willing to take lie detector tests.

But the municipal judge who conducted the hearing, Roy L. Henry, said a transcribed record was taken of the court proceedings, and that:

"The names and testimonies of the witnesses were clear, and the record shows that Orville Elias did appear and gave his true name under oath."

The judge's statement continued:

"The case was decided on its merits and dismissed after both sides had full opportunity to be heard. The transcript of the evidence is on file.

"The governor has been misinformed and is mistaken as to what transpired in this case."

The hearing followed complaints by the state health department about construction of an apartment-office building on mining land owned by former Sen. Collins near suburban Hanging Rock.

Collins contended there was no perjury, and said he has an official transcript to prove it.

In Columbus, the governor told newsmen: "The so-called transcript was made up last (Tuesday) night from notes taken by a girl who was in court practicing her shorthand. It is not an official transcript. We tried to get a transcript and found there was none."

In rebuttal, Collins said he has a transcribed record of the proceedings certified as follows:

"I, Anette Cleary, official court reporter of the Municipal Court, Ironton, Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing bill of exceptions is a true and exact copy of my shorthand notes and transcribed by me."

Collins said Miss Cleary was the court reporter when the hearing was held last April 14, and that she took the job April 1. The latter part was confirmed by other sources.

Collins, who was defeated for re-election last November, and Judge Henry are both Republicans. The judge is running for re-election next November against city solicitor Louis Sheridan, a Democrat like DiSalle.

To the governor's assertion that his office and the Ohio Highway Patrol had investigated the Collins case, the former senator said:

"The governor was not there, nor were his alleged investigators, and insofar as I am able to ascertain, no effort was ever made to obtain a copy of this official transcript. There was no perjury in this trial, and when Orville Elias testified, he did so honestly and forthrightly as Orville Elias."

In no place in the transcript was Logan's name mentioned, Collins said.

To the governor's contention that two witnesses heard Elias identify himself as Logan, Collins replied:

"They are absolutely wrong. They don't know what they are talking about."

Earlier, he accused the governor of making "irresponsible statements" that were "totally false."

Informed of Collins' latest rebuttal, DiSalle remarked: "The matter has been placed in the prosecutor's hands and I will let it rest there."

He referred to a previous announcement that he was sending a report of the investigation to Lawrence County Prosecutor Harold Spears. The prosecutor said he will not comment before receiving the report.

Elias, the key figure in the dispute, was an inspector in the state Industrial Relations Department, working out of Ironton, until being dismissed, DiSalle said. Elias has subsequently sued to recover his job, the governor added.

DiSalle said Elias had been employed by Collins for a number of years.

The court case stemmed from a health department complaint that no plans had been filed for construction of the apartment-office building in question; that no permit had been obtained; that the building had plumbing irregularities and that no inspection had been sought.

About Negro Truck Drivers

Probers Seek More Data On Hoffa's Alleged Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rackets probers seeks more information today about James R. Hoffa's alleged threat that "it might not be healthy" for Negro truck drivers to haul freight into Detroit.

Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, many times has denounced racial discrimination. He has declared his union would have none of it.

Hoffa originally had been scheduled to testify today, but the committee said it probably will be Monday before he gets back on the witness stand.

The committee said it was calling a Negro truck driver to tell of his experiences with a race-color line Hoffa allegedly has drawn around the territory of his Detroit home union local 299.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy declined to name the witness in advance, but said the man now lives in California and was working out of Youngstown, Ohio, during the 1954-55 period in question.

The story of the alleged color barrier came in testimony Thursday by George S. Maxwell, Cleveland labor relations consultant to an organization of truck line owners who bargain with the Teamsters union.

Maxwell said Hoffa telephoned him in Cleveland to protest because the Ohio Northern Truck Lines of Youngstown, Ohio, was hiring Negro truck drivers to haul steel across country to Detroit.

Maxwell said Hoffa told him that "Local 299 did not like over-the-road (cross country) drivers of the colored race coming into Detroit." He said Hoffa warned him "it might not be healthy for them" if any more Negroes drove trucks into the local's Detroit jurisdiction.

County Farmers To Get Wheat Allotment Form

LISBON — Wheat allotment notices will be mailed to 2,370 Columbiana County Farmers by Monday, according to Everett A. Fishel of East Rochester, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Farmers who desire to plant and harvest over 15 acres of wheat for the 1960 crop will be eligible to vote in the marketing quota referendum July 23. A farmer having 15 acres or less is not eligible to vote, neither is he affected by market quotas if they are approved.

Two thirds of the vote cast must affirm market quotas if they are to be continued and those choosing to stay within their allotment will be eligible for price support, which will be not less than 75 per cent of parity, or about the same as 1959, Fishel said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from "Motor City Male"—the man who complained because his wife was a cold tomato and believed sex was strictly for men.

To use your phrase, Ann, if I hear that worn-out line one more time I'll put it to music and dance to it.

I happen to be a Motor City female, and my husband is the cold tomato in our family. I was a warm, affectionate girl when we married 22 years ago. Shortly after his 35th birthday he told me we weren't kids any more and to "forget it." He also said I should be thankful I didn't have to bother about sex any more as a lot of women consider it a nuisance.

I hope you'll publish this letter to let people know this problem is not one that just men have. There are probably thousands of women like myself who are starved for love and have been wives in name only for years.—NO PULSE.

Dear No Pulse: Other wives wrote to express the same view. Does it help to know there are a goodly number of suffering sisters in your sad sorority?

My mail, however, indicates that the female cold tomato outnumbers the male about 3-1. This is because female frigidity is the miserable legacy handed down from an icicle-type mother who considers sex a nasty duty or a crashing bore.

When Mother plants this geranium in her daughter's cranium it usually takes professional help or a remarkably patient and understanding husband to undo the early damage.

Negligent Parents

Dear Ann: What's wrong with some young mothers that they turn pre-school youngsters out of the house in the morning and don't bother about them after that?

I live in a neighborhood loaded with youngsters. They dig in the dirt (no tulips for me this year) and get into mischief in people's garages. But the worst part of this lack of supervision is that they wander out into the street and the traffic is heavy.

Yesterday I heard a screeching of brakes and could almost smell the rubber tires burning. I ran outside and the driver had stopped within inches of hitting two little sisters. The driver was in a cold sweat and explained he didn't see the kids—they "came out of nowhere."

What do you suggest?—BETH.

Dear Beth: If you didn't take the driver and the girls to the mother and describe the incident you should have. Only when some of these thoughtless mothers realize how close their children come to tragedy will they wake up.

Teen-Age Fad

Dear Ann: Have teen-age girls taken leave of their senses or what? Last night our 17-year-old went to a dance. I bought her a lovely shell pink gown. We hiked all over town to get just the right slippers. Then we had them tinted to match the dress.

Someone took candid shots at the dance and when our daughter showed them to us we almost fainted. There she was—dancing in her stocking feet! When I asked if she'd lost her mind she said, "It's much more comfy and besides, some of the fellows are shorter than the girls."

If this is the way they do, why bother about buying shoes at all? What would you do if you have a teen-age daughter who danced in her stocking feet?—OLD FOGIE.

-:-

Dear Old Fogie: I have—and she does. I do the same thing you did. Nothing.

Incidentally, what's so bad about it? It's a fad—and the short fellows love it. No harm done—except to the stockings. They tear every time!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vicar Addresses Meeting For Men

"The Making of a Minister" was the subject of a talk by Vicar Richard Linderman at a meeting of the United Lutheran Church Men of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church Wednesday evening.

The talk related the call and training of ministers in the denomination. Roy Cooper, president, who conducted business, announced the group's annual picnic will be held Aug. 12 at the lower pavilion in Thompson Park.

He said the group is planning to attend a Pirate baseball game in Pittsburgh. Aug. 14 is the tentative date. Those interested in attending with the group should contact the officers, he said.

Charles Bole led devotions. He and Glen McGaffic served refreshments.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean a diamond ring thoroughly?

A. There are some good preparations sold by jewlers and druggists for this purpose. Slip your ring onto a bobby pin and dip it into the liquid, then use an eyebrow brush to loosen the dirt at the back of the setting. A synthetic detergent or soap and water, plus a little ammonia, also will clean a diamond nicely. Use your little brush, rinse thoroughly, and dry with a chamois or tissue paper.

Q. How can I improvise a sewing thimble when I have lost the real thing?

A. For a real "flexible" thimble, put several coats of fingernail polish on your fingertips.

Q. How can I remove mildew from leather?

A. By rubbing first with petroleum jelly and then with a soft cloth.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

A New Fibber And Molly

In one of the assembly line factories of Filmdom, they're about to begin grinding out a new version of an old show, "Fibber McGee and Molly". . . which will give you some clue how pressed for ideas they are in TV!

Marie Torre

Though counterfeit productions have yet to bring distinction to the medium, television is notoriously addicted to adaptations and imitations—the familiar classic — even if only the title turns out to be the same. This, we suspect, will be true of the new "Fibber McGee and Molly," with Bob Sweeney and Cathy Lewis in the title roles.

The NBC claim is that the old radio show will be transferred to TV in "a format faithful to the original," but how faithful can it be if the success of the old show hinged on the unique and compatible charm of the mainstays, a pair of refugees from vaudeville named Jim and Marion Jordan!

THIS IS ALMOST like trying to duplicate "The Aurthur Godfrey Show" with someone other than Godfrey.

Without the memorable Jordans, the entire character of Wistful Vista must change, and when all is said and done, viewers who remember probably will be comparing the new McGee to the old and noting that nothing's the same any more. The casting places an awful burden on Mr. Sweeney and Miss Lewis, the latter feeling the strain even now.

"How do you play a legend!" she declares perceptively. "When the idea originally was broached to me, I thought the people were out of their minds. Then they talked and talked, and I was sufficiently convinced that it would be turned into a whole new thing with whimsical overtones.

"I think—I hope—some of the old flavor of the show will be preserved. If not, then maybe viewers will welcome the opportunity to watch a series that has no teen-age problems, no private eyes and no cowboys."

Miss Lewis undoubtedly has something there. . . still, we hate imitations!

ONCE IN rating trouble, the "Ann Sothern Show" has been making notable audience gains since Don Porter was added to the cast of the situation comedy in March. Those who profess to know about such things explain the rating increase in this way: The show needed a stronger love interest for Miss Sothern and there was a sentimental audience attachment for the Sothern-Porter combination after all those 'Private Secretary' shows. . . .

The plethora of TV horse operas has had a detrimental effect on movie Westerns, according to a Hollywood survey, which indicates that the Western, hardiest perennial in Hollywood's picture stable, has gone thataway. Five years ago Western films accounted for one-quarter of total releases. Today they account for less than one-tenth of the movie output. . . .

While in Russia, Art Linkletter will attempt to film a "People Are Funny" show. . . .

Hans Conreid will portray the role created by Clifton Webb in "Belvedere," another re-make out of the 20th Century-Fox TV stable. . . .

TV's movie addicts soon will be able to view recent performances by Ingrid Bergman, Anita Ekberg, Zsa Zsa Gabor. They're all foreign mid-'50 movies whose TV rights are owned by Show Corporation of America.

Deputy Sheriff Foils Plot Of 3 To Escape Jail

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A possible escape by three men from the Stark County Jail was foiled Thursday when a deputy sheriff found a partly sawed bar in a cell occupied by the trio.

In making a routine inspection, the deputy tapped the bar with a hammer. When he heard an odd sound, he looked more closely and found the bar had been cut. The saw blade used to cut the bar was not found.

Two of the three, all from Canton, have a record of previous escapes. In the cell were Richard A. Merinar, 25; Robert Race, 26; and Wade Jones, 24. Merinar had escaped three times and was awaiting transfer to Mansfield Reformatory on sentences totalling 2-25 years for escape, grand larceny, auto theft and breaking and entering.

Race, who had joined Merinar in one of the escapes, was awaiting transfer to Ohio Penitentiary on similar charges. Jones was being held as a parole violator and on a non-support charge.

Exams Slated For City Posts

The Municipal Civil Service Commission today announced it will hold competitive examinations to establish eligibility lists appointment of school custodians and sewage plant operators.

One vacancy exists for a sewage plant operator, where Charles E. Beatty, a laborer, has been working under a provisional appointment since the resignation of Charles P. Webber. The job pays $300 a month.

There is no vacancy among school custodians at present but the eligibility list has expired. The job pays between $260 and $282 a month, depending on the size of the building in which the employe works.

The examination for sewage plant operators will be held July 27 at 7:30 p. m. in Council Chambers at City Hall. The custodian examination is scheduled Aug. 3 at 7:30 p. m.

Men seeking the post of sewage plant operator must be between 21 and 51, a legal resident of the city and a U. S. citizen for at least a year.

Applicants for custodial jobs can be between 21 and 65 and must have been a citizen and a resident of the city school district for at least a year.

The deadline for filing applications for both examinations is July 25. The application blanks can be obtained from Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's office or from any commission member — Donal I. Burcham, chairman, Alvin T. Babb and Ben H. Berman — or the commission secretary, Collin L. Neal. A $1 fee must accompany each application.

Farm Agent Gives Tip To Help Fight Japanese Beetles

Oliver Johnson, Hancock County farm agent, today issued tips to help the tri-state area in its annual battle with the Japanese beetle, which attacks 275 different varieties of plants.

Spraying is the best control measure, Johnson said. Homeowners should use a mixture of DDT and Malathion when spraying ornamental shrubs and plants, he said. To each gallon of water, add three level tablespoonsful of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder and one tablespoonful of 50 per cent Malathion liquid emulsion concentrate. For the vegetable garden, substitute the DDT with methoxychlor in the same amounts.

Johnson said it is recommended that the DDT not be applied where a crop is to be harvested for food in less than 17 days.

He said the spray application will kill Japanese beetles. But if the concentration of bugs is heavy a new group will fly in as soon as the first has been destroyed, Johnson added. Application should be repeated very five to seven days, depending upon weather conditions.

Japanese beetles have a preference for color, Johnson remarked. They are attracted to yellow and light-colored roses in preference to the dark reds.

City's Hospital Treats 5 Injured Youngsters

Five youngsters injured in various accidents were treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Johnny Johnston, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Johnston, 176 Ravine St., suffered a laceration of the forehead when he fell against a bed at home last night.

Bonnie Elkins, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elkins, 854 Fairview St., suffered injuries in a fall from a couch at home.

Jackie Coleman, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman of Ferry Rd., Chester, received a puncture wound of the foot when he stepped on a nail at home.

West Virginia Explains Law On Boat Licensing

Any Ohio resident obtaining a West Virginia boat license for a boat purchased and owned in Ohio is not liable to the West Virginia use tax, authorities at Charleston advised local boat operators this week.

Because applications for the boat license request information concerning the valuation of the boat, West Virginia officials were questioned about the application of the tax to Ohio boat owners.

Max L. Burns, director of the use tax division, reported the law provides that all articles of tangible property brought into West Virginia by a non-resident, for use or enjoyment, shall be exempt from the tax.

Boy's Body Recovered

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The body of Bernard G. Tate, 16, of Cleveland was recovered Thursday from Lake Erie. The youth apparently tried to swim ashore from a stalled motor boat three miles northeast of the Port Clinton harbor entrance, authorities said. A companion, 53-year-old Harry Shanklin, swam for help, but when assistance arrived the boat was empty.

Bad Weather Adds To Thrills At Scouts' Camp In Colorado

The weatherman has provided some unscheduled entertainment for the district contingent of Girl Scouts attending the International Roundup at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Snow, hail, rain and winds of gale force have added to the excitement.

Attending the roundup are Rosa Hughey, Mary Smith, Gerry Buchanan and Barbara Yager of East Liverpool and Marsha Seeley and Susan Wilson of Chester. Mrs. Eugene Seeley of Chester is one of the troop leaders.

The district Scouts traveled by special train and are part of a troop which includes patrols from Philadelphia, Boston and Los Angeles.

The camp is opposite the new Air Force Academy, with breathtaking scenery on all sides, the girls report in letters to the folks back home.

Upon their arrival, Army personnel assisted in the tent pitching. Due to the severe storms, the Scouts were kept busy trying to keep their shelter up, with tents collapsing almost nightly. However, the wind now has subsided and the girls are enjoying the roundup to the fullest.

Part of the itinerary so far has been a tour of the Academy, "The Garden of the Gods" and visitation day, when a program was presented at the Arena in commemoration of Colorado Centennial Day.

Salt and peppers, teapots and many pottery items are playing a big part in the "swap program" and the Scouts have written their mothers to send more articles for trading.

Despite the fact that some 53 fainted during the intense heat, the girls report they are just fine and enjoying the many experiences afforded in an association with some 8,000 other girls.

The group is due home next Wednesday.

Hancock 40 & 8 Voiture Seats New Officers At Newell Rites

A slate of new officers headed by Herbert Eddy of near New Cumberland was installed at a promenade of Voiture 1459 of the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society Thursday night in the Home of Newell American Legion Post 114.

Eddy, a veteran of World War II and an employe of the Globe Brick Co., was seated as new chef de gare by George LaNeve, grand cheminot, who served as installing officer. LaNeve was assisted by Charles W. Morris of Chester, grand de gare of West Virginia.

Following installation ceremonies, refreshments were served by LaNeve, Harry Lytton, Paul Mosher, Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. Mae Hupp and Mrs. Lytton.

During business conducted by Eddy, it was announced that two nurses' scholarships now are available for interested girls who are resident of Chester and Lawrenceville.

Girls interested in beginning nurses' training at a local hospital under sponsorship of the voiture may contact Morris or John Merriman at the Chester American Legion Post home.

Three delegates and three alternate delegates were named for a grand promenade to be held in Parkersburg July 23. Delegates are Morris, John Merriman and Dwight Allison. Alternates include George LaNeve, Karl Rinehart and Dr. R. D. Watkins.

For the third consecutive year, Morris was named head of a trophies and awards committee. As grand chef de train, he will reply to the welcoming address of the mayor of Parkersburg at the grand promenade.

Merriman was named to serve on a credentials committee and Rinehart was chosen chairman of a nominating committee for 1960.

Merriman was in charge of the installation. He was presented a past chef de gare's pin for his work during the last year.

The next meeting is scheduled Aug. 13 at 8 p. m. in the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 home.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Vaccinations for Foreign Travel

- Work After 60
- Leukemia

Q. Where can I obtain information on vaccination requirements for foreign travel?

A. From your doctor or by writing for Public Health Service Publication No. 348 (30¢ per copy). Direct your request to the Supt. of Documents, U. S. Gov. Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Q. Does working after 60 shorten life?

A. There seems to be no scientific study on which to base an answer. Meaningful information of this sort would be hard to obtain. For one thing, people do not retire "at random." Life expectancy of all people who no longer work after 60 is no doubt shorter than those who continue to work, simply because many of the former have retired due to poor health.

Q. I understand that doctors now have a way of treating leukemia by giving injections of bone narrow. Is such treatment effective?

A. The treatment referred to has been used in animal experiments but only a few humans have been so treated. Large doses of total body irradiation are first given to "kill off" the cancer cells. Bone marrow cells are then given to help the body recover from the irradiation. Authorities say that this method of treatment can hardly be touted as generally useful at this time. Such investigations provide basic knowledge and may be tried experimentally in certain patients but the cure for leukemia will probably lie along different lines.

A prescription is your personal property and it is your right to have it filled at a pharmacy of your own choosing. When you bring it to us, you receive the finest and fastest service—and the fairest price.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Heat Dispelled By Area Rains

Nearly an inch of rain fell in the tri-state area Thursday night and early today, bringing cooling relief after 90-degree temperatures yesterday afternoon.

Today will be sunny, but the high temperature will range between 78 and 85, the Ohio weatherman said. Tonight will be cloudy and cool, with a low of 58-63.

Saturday will be mostly sunny with little temperature change.

Dam 7 at Midland measured ninety hundredths of an inch of precipitation in the showers. The mercury reached its high of 90 at 3 and 4 yesterday afternoon. The overnight low of 66 was recorded between 4 and 6 this morning.

Dam Funds Advanced

WASHINGTON — Confirming action taken earlier by its appropriations committee, the Senate Thursday provided a fund of $6,800,000 to continue construction of the Stratton "super dam" in the fiscal year that opened July 1. The appropriation was contained in a $1 billion measure for public works, including flood control, navigation and reclamation.

Chester Firemen Plan Crate Derby As Fair Highlight

A "crate derby" for youngsters on wheeled carts will be a feature of the annual Chester volunteer firemen's fair, it was announced at a meeting of the Chester Lions Club Thursday night.

The event will be held the final day of the fair July 27-Aug. 1 on the Indiana Ave. hill, Dino Rossi, chairman of the derby, said.

Jerry D'Angelo, president, said letters have been mailed to over 20 organizations inviting them to take part in the fair.

Window posters have been placed with various business establishments advertising the fair. Tickets for amusement rides may be purchased from club members in advance.

In other business, James Wallace was named chairman of the committee on sight conservation, a major project of the service club.

Plans were discussed for improving the clubhouse grounds. D'Angelo will name a committee later to organize the work. John Abrams and Walter Jordan were appointed to arrange a family picnic at the next meeting July 23.

Ted Glass was a guest. Rossi distributed literature from the Lions International convention he attended last week in New York.

Killed In Mishap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Ruby Eldridge, 27, of (2000 Yankee Rd.) Middletown, was sitting on the front fender of a moving automobile Thursday night when she was thrown to the pavement and killed, authorities said. The car, driven by her brother-in-law, Earl C. Eldridge, 17, also of Middletown (1827 Fernwood St.), was going downhill on a road near Germantown Dam, south of here. Mrs. Eldridge lost her balance when the car turned. The driver was held in jail here for investigation.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

A New Fibber And Molly

In one of the assembly line factories of Filmdom, they're about to begin grinding out a new version of an old show, "Fibber McGee and Molly". . . which will give you some clue how pressed for ideas they are in TV!

Marie Torre

Though counterfeit productions have yet to bring distinction to the medium, television is notoriously addicted to adaptations and imitations—the familiar classic — even if only the title turns out to be the same. This, we suspect, will be true of the new "Fibber McGee and Molly," with Bob Sweeney and Cathy Lewis in the title roles.

The NBC claim is that the old radio show will be transferred to TV in "a format faithful to the original," but how faithful can it be if the success of the old show hinged on the unique and compatible charm of the mainstays, a pair of refugees from vaudeville named Jim and Marion Jordan!

THIS IS ALMOST like trying to duplicate "The Aurthur Godfrey Show" with someone other than Godfrey.

Without the memorable Jordans, the entire character of Wistful Vista must change, and when all is said and done, viewers who remember probably will be comparing the new McGee to the old and noting that nothing's the same any more. The casting places an awful burden on Mr. Sweeney and Miss Lewis, the latter feeling the strain even now.

"How do you play a legend!" she declares perceptively. "When the idea originally was broached to me, I thought the people were out of their minds. Then they talked and talked, and I was sufficiently convinced that it would be turned into a whole new thing with whimsical overtones.

"I think—I hope—some of the old flavor of the show will be preserved. If not, then maybe viewers will welcome the opportunity to watch a series that has no teen-age problems, no private eyes and no cowboys."

Miss Lewis undoubtedly has something there. . . still, we hate imitations!

ONCE IN rating trouble, the "Ann Sothern Show" has been making notable audience gains since Don Porter was added to the cast of the situation comedy in March. Those who profess to know about such things explain the rating increase in this way: The show needed a stronger love interest for Miss Sothern and there was a sentimental audience attachment for the Sothern-Porter combination after all those 'Private Secretary' shows. . . .

The plethora of TV horse operas has had a detrimental effect on movie Westerns, according to a Hollywood survey, which indicates that the Western, hardiest perennial in Hollywood's picture stable, has gone thataway. Five years ago Western films accounted for one-quarter of total releases. Today they account for less than one-tenth of the movie output. . . .

While in Russia, Art Linkletter will attempt to film a "People Are Funny" show. . . .

Hans Conreid will portray the role created by Clifton Webb in "Belvedere," another re-make out of the 20th Century-Fox TV stable. . . .

TV's movie addicts soon will be able to view recent performances by Ingrid Bergman, Anita Ekberg, Zsa Zsa Gabor. They're all foreign mid-'50 movies whose TV rights are owned by Show Corporation of America.

Deputy Sheriff Foils Plot Of 3 To Escape Jail

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A possible escape by three men from the Stark County Jail was foiled Thursday when a deputy sheriff found a partly sawed bar in a cell occupied by the trio.

In making a routine inspection, the deputy tapped the bar with a hammer. When he heard an odd sound, he looked more closely and found the bar had been cut. The saw blade used to cut the bar was not found.

Two of the three, all from Canton, have a record of previous escapes. In the cell were Richard A. Merinar, 25; Robert Race, 26; and Wade Jones, 24. Merinar had escaped three times and was awaiting transfer to Mansfield Reformatory on sentences totalling 2-25 years for escape, grand larceny, auto theft and breaking and entering.

Race, who had joined Merinar in one of the escapes, was awaiting transfer to Ohio Penitentiary on similar charges. Jones was being held as a parole violator and on a non-support charge.

Applicants for custodial jobs can be between 21 and 65 and must have been a citizen and a resident of the city school district for at least a year.

The deadline for filing applications for both examinations is July 25. The application blanks can be obtained from Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's office or from any commission member — Donal I. Burcham, chairman, Alvin T. Babb and Ben H. Berman — or the commission secretary, Collin L. Neal. A $1 fee must accompany each application.

Farm Agent Gives Tip To Help Fight Japanese Beetles

Oliver Johnson, Hancock County farm agent, today issued tips to help the tri-state area in its annual battle with the Japanese beetle, which attacks 275 different varieties of plants.

Spraying is the best control measure, Johnson said. Homeowners should use a mixture of DDT and Malathion when spraying ornamental shrubs and plants, he said. To each gallon of water, add three level tablespoonsful of 50 per cent DDT wettable powder and one tablespoonful of 50 per cent Malathion liquid emulsion concentrate. For the vegetable garden, substitute the DDT with methoxychlor in the same amounts.

Johnson said it is recommended that the DDT not be applied where a crop is to be harvested for food in less than 17 days.

He said the spray application will kill Japanese beetles. But if the concentration of bugs is heavy a new group will fly in as soon as the first has been destroyed, Johnson added. Application should be repeated very five to seven days, depending upon weather conditions.

Japanese beetles have a preference for color, Johnson remarked. They are attracted to yellow and light-colored roses in preference to the dark reds.

City's Hospital Treats 5 Injured Youngsters

Bonnie Elkins, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elkins, 854 Fairview St., suffered injuries in a fall from a couch at home.

Jackie Coleman, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman of Ferry Rd., Chester, received a puncture wound of the foot when he stepped on a nail at home.

Christina Moyer, 9, of Salem was treated for a cut of the right forearm received at camp.

West Virginia Explains Law On Boat Licensing

Any Ohio resident obtaining a West Virginia boat license for a boat purchased and owned in Ohio is not liable to the West Virginia use tax, authorities at Charleston advised local boat operators this week.

Because applications for the boat license request information concerning the valuation of the boat, West Virginia officials were questioned about the application of the tax to Ohio boat owners.

Max L. Burns, director of the use tax division, reported the law provides that all articles of tangible property brought into West Virginia by a non-resident, for use or enjoyment, shall be exempt from the tax.

Boy's Body Recovered

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The body of Bernard G. Tate, 16, of Cleveland was recovered Thursday from Lake Erie. The youth apparently tried to swim ashore from a stalled motor boat three miles northeast of the Port Clinton harbor entrance, authorities said. A companion, 53-year-old Harry Shanklin, swam for help, but when assistance arrived the boat was empty.

Bad Weather Adds To Thrills At Scouts' Camp In Colorado

The weatherman has provided some unscheduled entertainment for the district contingent of Girl Scouts attending the International Roundup at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Snow, hail, rain and winds of gale force have added to the excitement.

Attending the roundup are Rosa Hughey, Mary Smith, Gerry Buchanan and Barbara Yager of East Liverpool and Marsha Seeley and Susan Wilson of Chester. Mrs. Eugene Seeley of Chester is one of the troop leaders.

The district Scouts traveled by special train and are part of a troop which includes patrols from Philadelphia, Boston and Los Angeles.

The camp is opposite the new Air Force Academy, with breathtaking scenery on all sides, the girls report in letters to the folks back home.

Upon their arrival, Army personnel assisted in the tent pitching. Due to the severe storms, the Scouts were kept busy trying to keep their shelter up, with tents collapsing almost nightly. However, the wind now has subsided and the girls are enjoying the roundup to the fullest.

Part of the itinerary so far has been a tour of the Academy, "The Garden of the Gods" and visitation day, when a program was presented at the Arena in commemoration of Colorado Centennial Day.

Salt and peppers, teapots and many pottery items are playing a big part in the "swap program" and the Scouts have written their mothers to send more articles for trading.

Despite the fact that some 53 fainted during the intense heat, the girls report they are just fine and enjoying the many experiences afforded in an association with some 8,000 other girls.

The group is due home next Wednesday.

Hancock 40 & 8 Voiture Seats New Officers At Newell Rites

A slate of new officers headed by Herbert Eddy of near New Cumberland was installed at a promenade of Voiture 1459 of the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society Thursday night in the Home of Newell American Legion Post 114.

Eddy, a veteran of World War II and an employe of the Globe Brick Co., was seated as new chef de gare by George LaNeve, grand cheminot, who served as installing officer. LaNeve was assisted by Charles W. Morris of Chester, grand de gare of West Virginia.

Following installation ceremonies, refreshments were served by LaNeve, Harry Lytton, Paul Mosher, Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. Mae Hupp and Mrs. Lytton.

During business conducted by Eddy, it was announced that two nurses' scholarships now are available for interested girls who are resident of Chester and Lawrenceville.

Girls interested in beginning nurses' training at a local hospital under sponsorship of the voiture may contact Morris or John Merriman at the Chester American Legion Post home.

Three delegates and three alternate delegates were named for a grand promenade to be held in Parkersburg July 23. Delegates are Morris, John Merriman and Dwight Allison. Alternates include George LaNeve, Karl Rinehart and Dr. R. D. Watkins.

For the third consecutive year, Morris was named head of a trophies and awards committee. As grand chef de train, he will reply to the welcoming address of the mayor of Parkersburg at the grand promenade.

Merriman was named to serve on a credentials committee and Rinehart was chosen chairman of a nominating committee for 1960.

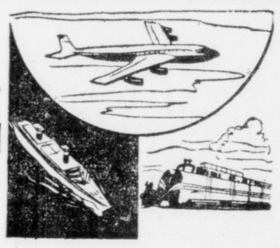

Merriman was in charge of the installation. He was presented a past chef de gare's pin for his work during the last year.

The next meeting is scheduled Aug. 13 at 8 p. m. in the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 home.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Work After 60
- Leukemia

Q. Where can I obtain information on vaccination requirements for foreign travel?

A. From your doctor or by writing for Public Health Service Publication No. 348 (30¢ per copy). Direct your request to the Supt. of Documents, U. S. Gov. Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Q. Does working after 60 shorten life?

A. There seems to be no scientific study on which to base an answer. Meaningful information of this sort would be hard to obtain. For one thing, people do not retire "at random." Life expectancy of all people who no longer work after 60 is no doubt shorter than those who continue to work, simply because many of the former have retired due to poor health.

Q. I understand that doctors now have a way of treating leukemia by giving injections of bone narrow. Is such treatment effective?

A. The treatment referred to has been used in animal experiments but only a few humans have been so treated. Large doses of total body irradiation are first given to "kill off" the cancer cells. Bone marrow cells are then given to help the body recover from the irradiation. Authorities say that this method of treatment can hardly be touted as generally useful at this time. Such investigations provide basic knowledge and may be tried experimentally in certain patients but the cure for leukemia will probably lie along different lines.

A prescription is your personal property and it is your right to have it filled at a pharmacy of your own choosing. When you bring it to us, you receive the finest and fastest service — and the fairest price.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Heat Dispelled By Area Rains

Nearly an inch of rain fell in the tri-state area Thursday night and early today, bringing cooling relief after 90-degree temperatures yesterday afternoon.

Today will be sunny, but the high temperature will range between 78 and 85, the Ohio weatherman said. Tonight will be cloudy and cool, with a low of 58-63.

Saturday will be mostly sunny with little temperature change.

Dam 7 at Midland measured ninety hundredths of an inch of precipitation in the showers. The mercury reached its high of 90 at 3 and 4 yesterday afternoon. The overnight low of 66 was recorded between 4 and 6 this morning.

Dam Funds Advanced

WASHINGTON — Confirming action taken earlier by its appropriations committee, the Senate Thursday provided a fund of $6,800,000 to continue construction of the Stratton "super dam" in the fiscal year that opened July 1. The appropriation was contained in a $1 billion measure for public works, including flood control, navigation and reclamation.

Chester Firemen Plan Crate Derby As Fair Highlight

A "crate derby" for youngsters on wheeled carts will be a feature of the annual Chester volunteer firemen's fair, it was announced at a meeting of the Chester Lions Club Thursday night.

The event will be held the final day of the fair July 27-Aug. 1 on the Indiana Ave. hill, Dino Rossi, chairman of the derby, said.

Jerry D'Angelo, president, said letters have been mailed to over 20 organizations inviting them to take part in the fair.

Window posters have been placed with various business establishments advertising the fair. Tickets for amusement rides may be purchased from club members in advance.

In other business, James Wallace was named chairman of the committee on sight conservation, a major project of the service club.

Plans were discussed for improving the clubhouse grounds. D'Angelo will name a committee later to organize the work. John Abrams and Walter Jordan were appointed to arrange a family picnic at the next meeting July 23.

Ted Glass was a guest. Rossi distributed literature from the Lions International convention he attended last week in New York.

Killed In Mishap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Ruby Eldridge, 27, of (2000 Yankee Rd.) Middletown, was sitting on the front fender of a moving automobile Thursday night when she was thrown to the pavement and killed, authorities said. The car, driven by her brother-in-law, Earl C. Eldridge, 17, also of Middletown (1827 Fernwood St.), was going downhill on a road near Germantown Dam, south of here. Mrs. Eldridge lost her balance when the car turned. The driver was held in jail here for investigation.

Kids Have Field Day . . .

Christmas is for the kids—and so is the All-Star baseball game.

The youngsters swarmed around the National League stars in the lobby of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel Tuesday morning. And across the street at the Carlton House, the kids were giving the American League players a workout with pen and pencil.

All of the players obliged and it was a perfect hunting ground for the young baseball enthusiasts. Here were the top stars in both leagues under one roof.

Elroy Face, the Pirates' ace relief pitcher, was cornered for about 45 minutes by autograph seekers.

Could that be the reason he was knocked out of the box by the American Leaguers in the eighth inning? Perhaps his arm was tired from signing his name so often.

Most popular with the kids was Willie Mays, the Giants centerfielder.

Nice Talking To You Hank . . .

IN THE MIDST of all the confusion, we managed to corner Hank Aaron for a few minutes.

The soft-spoken and very polite Aaron, who went into the All-Star game leading the National League with a .370 batting average, said he doubts if he'll hit .400 this season.

"It would take another long hot streak like I had earlier in the season," he commented.

Asked about the way he thinks the National League race will end, he, of course, predicted the Braves to finish "on top."

"We're weak right now with Logan and Buhl out, but when we get straightened around, we'll get rolling again," Hank said.

"The team I fear most in the league is Los Angeles. They have a tough pitching staff."

—:—

WE QUESTIONED Hank about the second All-Star game in Los Angeles in August. Although he didn't give us a direct answer, he offered some food for thought.

Aaron said "The game won't hurt me, of course, since the money is going to our players' pension fund."

"But you have to look at it like a fan in the street. They think the baseball players are greedy, and having too many All - Star games would ruin it for the fans."

We think he had a good point. After all to make All-Star games commonplace would destroy the tradition and color behind it.

It was the opinion of most of the writers that only one All-Star game will be held in the future. The second game this year has drawn sharp criticism from many newspapers.

'Braves Team To Beat'–Cepeda . . .

IN THE SAME group with Aaron was the big first baseman from the Giants, Orlando Cepeda, who believes that San Francisco has a "good chance" to grab the brass ring in the National League this season.

However, as an after thought, Cepeda said "The Braves are going to be the team to beat.

We also talked to Joe Cunningham of the St. Louis Cardinals, who recalled that he played with Stan Franczek of Newell when they were Cardinal farmhands at Johnson City, Tenn.

Cunningham also played against Stan's brother Pete, who played at Elizabeth, Tenn.

Joe was one of eight National League players who didn't get into the All-Star tilt.

THE AWARD for the most popular man at the All-Star game must go to Casey Stengel. Sportswriters and photographers milled around until Casey appeared on the field and he was quickly surrounded by the press.

—:—

IT DIDN'T come as any surprise when Eddie Mathews connected for a home run in the first inning. During batting practice the Braves' third baseman drove one high into the upper right field deck.

The one in batting practice went foul by a few feet, but there wasn't any question about the home run in the first inning.

This 'n That In Sports . . .

IT HAS been hinted that Waterford Park will hold twi-night racing beginning maybe next week.

Horace Wade and the owners of the one-mile track were very enthusiastic about the turnout and wagering Tuesday when twi-night racing was held for the first time following the All-Star game in Pittsburgh.

A BETTER breed of horses this year and a fast turf course account for the records set at Waterford Park during this summer meeting.

Equated is the latest to enter the record books, after stepping off a new American mark in the one mile and seventy - yard test Wednesday. Atesa, holder of a world's record, was second to Equated in the race.

Incidentally, Equated is owned by Tom Carnegie of East Liverpool who runs a used car agency in East End.

THE PRESENTATION to the owner of Snoozie, winner of the $5,000 Independence Day Handicap Saturday, was made by Mrs. Paul Peale, a sister of the late Wendell Wilkie.

—:—

BOB ELLIOTT, former sports editor at The Review and now a Miami, Fla., sportswriter, visited Waterford Park Wednesday.

TAD DILORETO, the former professional boxer from Wellsville and East Liverpool, will be guest referee at an amateur boxing show Saturday at 8:30 p. m. at Harding Stadium in Steubenville. Funds will go for the benefit of the police department juvenile delinquency committee.

Dairymen Edge Littens On Tridico's 3-Hitter

Jim Tridico came up with another outstanding pitching performance when Golden Star handed league leading Littens a 5-4 setback in Pony League play Thursday at Dopler Field.

Tridico had to overcome six errors committed by his teammates as he limited Littens to just three singles.

Trailing 4-3, the Dairymen came from behind to post the tying and winning runs in the sixth inning.

Jim Conkle's home run was the big blow struck for Golden Star while Bob Myers collected two hits in three trips.

The loss was Litten's second of the second half.

Face Bounces Back After All-Star Stint

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates wasted no time in bouncing back from his disappointing showing in last Tuesday's All-Star game.

The bullpen ace came on in relief against Chicago Thursday night and won the game, 4-3 for his 13th consecutive victory of the season and 18th straight since May 30, 1958.

Thursday night's victory enabled Face to tie a Pirate record set in 1910 by Deacon Phillipe for consecutive wins in a season.

"Anytime you win as many in a row as I have," said Face, "You have to have some luck."

The forkball artist won the extra-inning game after he relieved Vernon Law in the 9th and gave up the game-tying single to Tony Taylor.

Since 1900, only five National League pitchers have won 13 in a row. Last was Brooks Lawrence with the Cincinnati Reds in 1956.

Yogi Berra had only two minor league seasons — Norfolk, Va., and Newark, N. J. — before he was brought up by the Yankees.

White Sox Continue Mastery Over Tribe, 4-3

Face Called On To Win 13th Straight Game

Chicago Wins 9 Of 13 Games With Indians

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Lopez, the manager of the Chicago White Sox, still believes the New York Yankees are the team to beat in the American League. Neither he nor his team seem to have any fear of the Cleveland Indians, who still lead the league by one game.

The White Sox continued their mastery of the Indians Thursday night with a 4-3 decision on lefty Billy Pierce's five-hitter. It was Chicago's ninth victory in 13 meetings with the Tribe.

When it comes to one-run games the Chicagoans are champs. They have now taken 17 of 21 contests in the squeaker category.

"I've got to respect the Yankees because they have a little more class," said Lopez before Thursday night's game. "Maybe their pitching is thin, but they haven't as many weaknesses as the Indians."

Jim Landis drove in three runs with a first-inning sacrifice fly and a two-run single with the bases loaded in the fifth. Bubba Phillips hit a home run in the sixth inning off loser Herb Score (9-6) and that proved decisive.

The Indians scored two runs in the second to take a 2-1 lead on a pair of throwing errors by Phillips and Pierce, a walk and Dick Brown's single.

Jim Baxes' seventh inning homer cut the Chicago lead to 4-3 but Pierce hung on to post his ninth victory against 10 setbacks.

Jim Grant, who relieved Score in the seventh, held the Sox to a single hit in the final two frames.

Cleveland's Cal McLish (10-3) and Early Wynn (11-5), two of the league's finest right-handers will be due here tonight. A loss would still give the Indians an edge in the standings, but only by percentage points.

Wynn, the former Tribesman, has beaten his former mates seven straight times, including three this season. McLish, the ace of the Cleveland pitching staff, shoots for his sixth straight triumph.

Baltimore And Kansas City Sweep Doubleheaders In American Loop

By The Associated Press

Two pitchers combining for a doubleheader shutout over one club is rare in itself. Occasionally it happens twice in one season.

But it happened twice in the American League Thursday night.

While Chicago's second place White Sox moved within one game of Cleveland by beating the Indians 4-3, Baltimore's kid righthanders, Milt Pappas and Jerry Walker, blanked Washington 8-0 and 5-0 in a twi-night doubleheader. And Kansas City's Ray Herbert and Johnny Kucks each pitched five-hitters while whitewashing Detroit's tumbling Tigers 5-0 and 4-0.

The Tigers, who have lost six in a row, hadn't been handed a double shutout since Chicago's Marv Grissom and Joe Dobson did it on May 5, 1952. It hadn't happened to the Senators since Cleveland's Herb Score and Mike Garcia pulled it of Sept. 19, 1956.

The sweep by Baltimore lifted the Orioles out of a third place tie with the New York Yankees, who were walloped 14-3 by Boston.

The Senators managed only one extra-base hit among their 11 off Pappas (9-4) and Walker (7-3)—a first game triple by Bob Allison. Walker allowed only four singles while gaining a 4-0 record over Washington in his brief major league career. He has two shutouts in the majors—both four-hit jobs on the Nats.

Both youngsters walked but one man and struck out five. Pappas, also pitching his second shutout in the majors and like Walker just 20, was backed by Billy Gardner's two-run homer and Gus Triandos' solo 21st. Bob Nieman hit a two-run homer in the nightcap after Brooks Robinson stole home in the fifth for the only run Walker needed. Russ Kemmerer (5-8) and Pete Ramos (9-8) were the losers.

Herbert, pitching his first shutout since breaking into the majors in 1950 with the Tigers, walked two and struck out 10 while beating his ex-mates for a 6-7 record. Kucks, late of the Yankees, walked two and fanned three for a 3-4 record and his first complete game in 13 starts since June of last year.

Bob Cerv belted home runs in both games for the A's, getting his 10th in the opener against Frank Lary (9-6) and smacking his 11th with a man on the nightcap against Ray Narleski (4-9), who also gave up a home run by Bill Tuttle.

Jim Landis drove in three runs for the White Sox and Bubba Phillips clinched it with a sixth-inning home run off loser Herb Score (9-6). Pierce (9-10) went all the way for the victory after losing three in a row. Jim Baxes extended the Indians' home run streak to 18 games.

Vic Wertz and Ted Williams each hit solo sixth home runs for the Red Sox, and Bobby Avila, batting .174, drove in four runs with a pair of homers. Bob Turley (8-8) gave up only three hits in his 2 1-3 innings—but all were home runs. Frank Sullivan (5-5) was the winner for a 3-10 lifetime mark against the Yankees, who scored all their runs with two out in the fourth on Hec Lopez' single and doubles by Elston Howard and Gil McDouglald.

Yonkers $50,000 Pacing Final Won By Bye Bye Bird

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bye Bye Byrd won the $50,000 final of the HTA spring pacing series at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night as expected. Now he is in line to break the all-time one-season money winning record for a harness horse of $186,101 made by Scott Frost in 1955.

The $25,000 first place money the 4-year-old colt picked up boosted his 1959 earnings to $96,267 with many big races still to come.

Driver Clint Hodgins made it look easy as he guided the Poplar Byrd-Evalina Hanover offspring to a 2½ length victory in 1:59 2-5 for owner Rex Larkin of Chicago. Bye Bye Byrd paid a mere $2.40, but won like a 1-to-5 shot should.

Michigan Youngsters Capture Tennis Titles

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Hugh Curry and Sharon Pritula, both Michigan competitors, walked off with two-way honors Thursday at finals of the third annual Western Boys' and Girls' Tennis Championships.

Curry, of Hamtramck, only 10, won both the age 13 and under and 11 and under singles championships.

And Miss Pritula, 13, whipped Susan Gerber, Middletown, to take the girls 13 and under title, then teamed with her opponent to win the girls' doubles championship.

Craig Pitches 13 Inning Win Over Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe you remember Roger Craig, the big right-hander who made his rookie debut with Don Bessent in mid-1955 and gave the Dodgers a double lift to the National League pennant and their only world championship.

He won 12 in 1956, then lost the touch. So did Bessent, and they wound up in the minors.

Now Craig's back and he's got the touch again. Unbeaten, he won his fourth in a row Thursday night, with 11 innings of three-hit shutout relief that paid off with a 4-3 Los Angeles victory in 13 innings over Milwaukee — tumbling the Braves from first to third and hoisting the Dodgers to second place.

The San Francisco Giants jumped into the National League lead, by a half-game over the Dodgers and a full-game over the Braves, with a 3-2, ninth inning victory at Cincinnati that ruined Fred Hutchinson's debut as manager of the Reds.

Reliever Elroy Face won his 13th in a row, 13th this season, as third place Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings.

Philadelphia and St. Louis split a twi-night doubleheader, the Cards winning 6-2 after the Phillies had taken the opener 11-0 behind Gene Conley's seven-hit pitching.

Craig's brilliant relief job outdueled a two-man try by Braves' starter Joey Jay and Warren Spahn, the loser in relief. They had blanked the Dodgers after Norm Larker's tying, three-run pinch homer in the third.

Craig, following starter Danny McDevitt, retired 26 of the first 27 men he faced. He walked none, struck out three.

Willie Mays singled, stole second, then rolled home on Daryl Spencer's single for the Giants' winning run. It came off reliever Tom Acker (1-2), who came on after Don Newcombe was lifted for pinch-hitter in the eighth. Sam Jones (11-8) was the winner in relief.

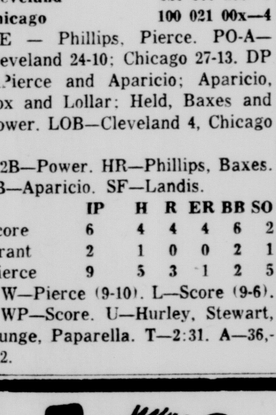

A pinch single by Harry Bright won it for the Pirates and Face, who had given up a tying single by Tony Taylor in a two-run Cub ninth after relieving Vern Law.

Face, the most consistent winner ever among relievers, now has a string of 19 scoreless innings and an 0.80 earned run average while topping the majors in victories.

Gene Freese hammered his third grand-slam of the year and Harry Anderson hit a two-run homer for the Phillies in the opener in support of Conley (7-5). Ernie Broglio (3-6) was the loser. Larry Jackson (8-7) then won the nightcap for the Cards with Ken Boyer's third-inning home run clinching it against Robin Roberts (5-8).

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Kids Have Field Day . . .

Christmas is for the kids—and so is the All-Star baseball game.

The youngsters swarmed around the National League stars in the lobby of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel Tuesday morning. And across the street at the Carlton House, the kids were giving the American League players a workout with pen and pencil.

All of the players obliged and it was a perfect hunting ground for the young baseball enthusiasts. Here were the top stars in both leagues under one roof.

Elroy Face, the Pirates' ace relief pitcher, was cornered for about 45 minutes by autograph seekers.

Could that be the reason he was knocked out of the box by the American Leaguers in the eighth inning? Perhaps his arm was tired from signing his name so often.

Most popular with the kids was Willie Mays, the Giants centerfielder.

Nice Talking To You Hank . . .

IN THE MIDST of all the confusion, we managed to corner Hank Aaron for a few minutes.

The soft-spoken and very polite Aaron, who went into the All-Star game leading the National League with a .370 batting average, said he doubts if he'll hit .400 this season.

"It would take another long hot streak like I had earlier in the season," he commented.

Asked about the way he thinks the National League race will end, he, of course, predicted the Braves to finish "on top."

"We're weak right now with Logan and Buhl out, but when we get straightened around, we'll get rolling again," Hank said.

"The team I fear most in the league is Los Angeles. They have a tough pitching staff."

—:—

WE QUESTIONED Hank about the second All-Star game in Los Angeles in August. Although he didn't give us a direct answer, he offered some food for thought.

Aaron said "The game won't hurt me, of course, since the money is going to our players' pension fund."

"But you have to look at it like a fan in the street. They think the baseball players are greedy, and having too many All - Star games would ruin it for the fans."

We think he had a good point. After all to make All-Star games commonplace would destroy the tradition and color behind it.

It was the opinion of most of the writers that only one All-Star game will be held in the future. The second game this year has drawn sharp criticism from many newspapers.

'Braves Team To Beat'–Cepeda . . .

IN THE SAME group with Aaron was the big first baseman from the Giants, Orlando Cepeda, who believes that San Francisco has a "good chance" to grab the brass ring in the National League this season.

However, as an after thought, Cepeda said "The Braves are going to be the team to beat.

We also talked to Joe Cunningham of the St. Louis Cardinals, who recalled that he played with Stan Franczek of Newell when they were Cardinal farmhands at Johnson City, Tenn.

Cunningham also played against Stan's brother Pete, who played at Elizabeth, Tenn.

Joe was one of eight National League players who didn't get into the All-Star tilt.

THE AWARD for the most popular man at the All-Star game must go to Casey Stengel. Sportswriters and photographers milled around until Casey appeared on the field and he was quickly surrounded by the press.

—:—

IT DIDN'T come as any surprise when Eddie Mathews connected for a home run in the first inning. During batting practice the Braves' third baseman drove one high into the upper right field deck.

The one in batting practice went foul by a few feet, but there wasn't any question about the home run in the first inning.

This 'n That In Sports . . .

IT HAS been hinted that Waterford Park will hold twi-night racing beginning maybe next week.

Horace Wade and the owners of the one-mile track were very enthusiastic about the turnout and wagering Tuesday when twi-night racing was held for the first time following the All-Star game in Pittsburgh.

A BETTER breed of horses this year and a fast turf course account for the records set at Waterford Park during this summer meeting.

Equated is the latest to enter the record books, after stepping off a new American mark in the one mile and seventy - yard test Wednesday. Atesa, holder of a world's record, was second to Equated in the race.

Incidentally, Equated is owned by Tom Carnegie of East Liverpool who runs a used car agency in East End.

THE PRESENTATION to the owner of Snoozie, winner of the $5,000 Independence Day Handicap Saturday, was made by Mrs. Paul Peale, a sister of the late Wendell Wilkie.

—:—

BOB ELLIOTT, former sports editor at The Review and now a Miami, Fla., sportswriter, visited Waterford Park Wednesday.

TAD DILORETO, the former professional boxer from Wellsville and East Liverpool, will be guest referee at an amateur boxing show Saturday at 8:30 p. m. at Harding Stadium in Steubenville. Funds will go for the benefit of the police department juvenile delinquency committee.

Chicago Wins 9 Of 13 Games With Indians

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Lopez, the manager of the Chicago White Sox, still believes the New York Yankees are the team to beat in the American League. Neither he nor his team seem to have any fear of the Cleveland Indians, who still lead the league by one game.

The White Sox continued their mastery of the Indians Thursday night with a 4-3 decision on lefty Billy Pierce's five-hitter. It was Chicago's ninth victory in 13 meetings with the Tribe.

When it comes to one-run games the Chicagoans are champs. They have now taken 17 of 21 contests in the squeaker category.

"I've got to respect the Yankees because they have a little more class," said Lopez before Thursday night's game. "Maybe their pitching is thin, but they haven't as many weaknesses as the Indians."

Jim Landis drove in three runs with a first-inning sacrifice fly and a two-run single with the bases loaded in the fifth. Bubba Phillips hit a home run in the sixth inning off loser Herb Score (9-6) and that proved decisive.

The Indians scored two runs in the second to take a 2-1 lead on a pair of throwing errors by Phillips and Pierce, a walk and Dick Brown's single.

Jim Baxes' seventh inning homer cut the Chicago lead to 4-3 but Pierce hung on to post his ninth victory against 10 setbacks.

Jim Grant, who relieved Score in the seventh, held the Sox to a single hit in the final two frames.

Cleveland's Cal McLish (10-3) and Early Wynn (11-5), two of the league's finest right-handers will be due here tonight. A loss would still give the Indians an edge in the standings, but only by percentage points.

Wynn, the former Tribesman, has beaten his former mates seven straight times, including three this season. McLish, the ace of the Cleveland pitching staff, shoots for his sixth straight triumph.

Baltimore And Kansas City Sweep Doubleheaders In American Loop

By The Associated Press

Two pitchers combining for a doubleheader shutout over one club is rare in itself. Occasionally it happens twice in one season.

But it happened twice in the American League Thursday night.

While Chicago's second place White Sox moved within one game of Cleveland by beating the Indians 4-3, Baltimore's kid righthanders, Milt Pappas and Jerry Walker, blanked Washington 8-0 and 5-0 in a twi-night doubleheader. And Kansas City's Ray Herbert and Johnny Kucks each pitched five-hitters while whitewashing Detroit's tumbling Tigers 5-0 and 4-0.

The Tigers, who have lost six in a row, hadn't been handed a double shutout since Chicago's Marv Grissom and Joe Dobson did it on May 5, 1952. It hadn't happened to the Senators since Cleveland's Herb Score and Mike Garcia pulled it of Sept. 19, 1956.

The sweep by Baltimore lifted the Orioles out of a third place tie with the New York Yankees, who were walloped 14-3 by Boston.

The Senators managed only one extra-base hit among their 11 off Pappas (9-4) and Walker (7-3)—a first game triple by Bob Allison. Walker allowed only four singles while gaining a 4-0 record over Washington in his brief major league career. He has two shutouts in the majors—both four-hit jobs on the Nats.

Both youngsters walked but one man and struck out five. Pappas, also pitching his second shutout in the majors and like Walker just 20, was backed by Billy Gardner's two-run homer and Gus Triandos' solo 21st. Bob Nieman hit a two-run homer in the nightcap after Brooks Robinson stole home in the fifth for the only run Walker needed. Russ Kemmerer (5-8) and Pete Ramos (9-8) were the losers.

Herbert, pitching his first shutout since breaking into the majors in 1950 with the Tigers, walked two and struck out 10 while beating his ex-mates for a 6-7 record. Kucks, late of the Yankees, walked two and fanned three for a 3-4 record and his first complete game in 13 starts since June of last year.

Bob Cerv belted home runs in both games for the A's, getting his 10th in the opener against Frank Lary (9-6) and smacking his 11th with a man on the nightcap against Ray Narleski (4-9), who also gave up a home run by Bill Tuttle.

Jim Landis drove in three runs for the White Sox and Bubba Phillips clinched it with a sixth-inning home run off loser Herb Score (9-6). Pierce (9-10) went all the way for the victory after losing three in a row. Jim Baxes extended the Indians' home run streak to 18 games.

Vic Wertz and Ted Williams each hit solo sixth home runs for the Red Sox, and Bobby Avila, batting .174, drove in four runs with a pair of homers. Bob Turley (8-8) gave up only three hits in his 2 1-3 innings—but all were home runs. Frank Sullivan (5-5) was the winner for a 3-10 lifetime mark against the Yankees, who scored all their runs with two out in the fourth on Hec Lopez' single and doubles by Elston Howard and Gil McDouglald.

Craig Pitches 13 Inning Win Over Braves

The San Francisco Giants jumped into the National League lead, by a half-game over the Dodgers and a full-game over the Braves, with a 3-2, ninth inning victory at Cincinnati that ruined Fred Hutchinson's debut as manager of the Reds.

Reliever Elroy Face won his 18th in a row, 13th this season, as third place Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings.

Philadelphia and St. Louis split a twi-night doubleheader, the Cards winning 6-2 after the Phillies had taken the opener 11-0 behind Gene Conley's seven-hit pitching.

Craig's brilliant relief job outdueled a two-man try by Braves' starter Joey Jay and Warren Spahn, the loser in relief. They had blanked the Dodgers after Norm Larker's tying, three-run pinch homer in the third.

Face, the most consistent winner ever among relievers, now has a string of 19 scoreless innings and an 0.80 earned run average while topping the majors in victories.

Larry Jackson (8-7) then won the nightcap for the Cards with Ken Boyer's third-inning home run clinching it against Robin Roberts (5-8).

Dairymen Edge Littens On Tridico's 3-Hitter

Jim Tridico came up with another outstanding pitching performance when Golden Star handed league leading Littens a 5-4 setback in Pony League play Thursday at Dopler Field.

Tridico had to overcome six errors committed by his teammates as he limited Littens to just three singles.

Trailing 4-3, the Dairymen came from behind to post the tying and winning runs in the sixth inning.

Jim Conkle's home run was the big blow struck for Golden Star while Bob Myers collected two hits in three trips.

The loss was Litten's second of the second half.

Face Bounces Back After All-Star Stint

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitcher Roy Face of the Pittsburgh Pirates wasted no time in bouncing back from his disappointing showing in last Tuesday's All-Star game.

The bullpen ace came on in relief against Chicago Thursday night and won the game, 4-3 for his 13th consecutive victory of the season and 18th straight since May 30, 1958.

Thursday night's victory enabled Face to tie a Pirate record set in 1910 by Deacon Phillipe for consecutive wins in a season.

"Anytime you win as many in a row as I have," said Face, "You have to have some luck."

The forkball artist won the extra-inning game after he relieved Vernon Law in the 9th and gave up the game-tying single to Tony Taylor.

Since 1900, only five National League pitchers have won 13 in a row. Last was Brooks Lawrence with the Cincinnati Reds in 1956.

Yogi Berra had only two minor league seasons — Norfolk, Va., and Newark, N. J. — before he was brought up by the Yankees.

Cincinnati Drops First Start Under New Manager, 4-3

Hutch Shifts Frank Thomas To Left Field

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fred Hutchinson's first game as boss of the Cincinnati Reds was a loss and it was particularly galling to this man who takes defeat very hard.

But there was a glint of success Thursday night despite the ninth inning 3-2 loss to the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

One of the big questions was what Hutch would do about Frank Thomas, a bona fide slugger when traded by Pittsburgh last winter but mostly in a slump this season with the Reds.

Hutchinson's first move was to shift the muff - making Thomas from third base to the outfield.

And Thomas, who had been riding the bench, responded by reaching base three times, twice on passes, and in the seventh inning drove out a home run. It was his sixth this season.

Hutch said, "Thomas is too good a player. Records prove it. He got into one of the hitting slumps and eventually it effected his fielding."

The Reds' new field boss likes to win and a victory over the surging Giants Thursday night would have been a boon for the new manager.

But Willie Mays' fleet base running—stealing second after a single and sprinting home on Daryl Spencers' single through the box off Tom Acker—proved fatal. It broke a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth inning.

One of Hutchinson's top problems is the Reds' pitching staff, known all over the league as one of the least likely to succeed.

Hutch started Don Newcombe Thursday night. Newk, who has beaten the Giants four straight, had good control over the opponents although he was touched up for a single and Willie Kirkland's home run in the sixth.

But the new Reds' boss yanked him for a pinch hitter in the eighth and successor Acker could not contain the brief ninth inning rally.

Tribe Recalls Smith From San Diego Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, in an effort to bolster their bullpen with a left - hander, have recalled Bob (Riverboat) Smith from San Diego.

Smith, 31, formerly was with the Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs. He will fill a spot on the roster left vacant by the sale of relief pitcher Dick Brodowski to Toronto for a reported $25,000.

"We needed a left-hander in the bullpen," general manager Frank Lane explained, "and Riverboat has both the experience and the ability to do the job."

Smith had a 5-3 record with the Pacific Coast League club.

The week after winning the National Open golf title, Billy Casper tied for 14th place in the Canadian Open with 283, one stroke more than he took in the U. S. Open.

FRED HUTCHINSON came to town today as the new Reds manager, replacing Mayo Smith, and found out one of his extra duties Thursday night was shaking hands with the fans in the stands. Along with other players, when the whistle sounded, the fan whose hand was held at the moment was brought to the field to receive a gift. Ruby Radfor doing honors here was not the lucky fan of Hutchinson. (UPI Telephoto)

Inter-League Trade Rule Taken To Commissioner

CHICAGO (AP) —The proposed inter-league trading rule again will be brought before Commissioner Ford Frick today at a joint meeting of the major leagues.

The measure, passed by both the American and National Leagues last December, was pushed aside when Frick asked the two organizations to reconsider.

Both leagues met Thursday and another vote was taken. Their votes will be announced today. If both again approve the measure, it will become law.

The ruling provides for a period in which clubs from both leagues can trade with each other without getting waivers on a player from other clubs in the league.

In the past, if the New York Yankees, for instance, sought to make a trade with a team in the National League, all the players involved had to be waived on by every club in the league.

Both leagues announced Thursday their opening dates for the 1960 season. The National League will open April 12, the American April 17. Both will close Oct. 2.

The American League adopted and put into effect the suspended game rule. A game halted before nine innings because of curfew, light failure or time limits will be played from the point of suspension. If a game goes over nine innings and is halted for any of these reasons, it will be completely replayed.

Swim Coach Predicts New World Mark

LOS ALTOS, Calif. (AP) — A prominent swimming coach forecast today that the United States can assemble a swimming relay team capable of breaking the world record for 400 meters.

As the National AAU men's senior championships got under way at the Fremont Hills Country Club here, predictions of fast times came from Willis Casey, swimming coach at North Carolina State.

He's also the man who next week will head a 16-man United States squad to Tokyo for a meet with the top Japanese swimmers.

"We have at least five swimmers capable of swimming 100 meters in 56 seconds or less," Casey declared. "With the relay starts, a four-man team should be capable of 3:44 and the record is 3:46.3 by an Australian team last year."

Casey listed Jeff Farrell, formerly of Oklahoma and now in the Navy, Joe Alkire of San Diego, Lance Larson of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and Carl Wooley and Dick Hanley of the Detroit Swim Club as the five capable of breaking 56 seconds.

They compete tonight in the opening program of the three-evening national meet. Also on the first program are the 1,500-meter freestyle, the 400-meter freestyle and the 3-meter springboard diving events.

Accent On More Passes Hinted By Paul Brown

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul Brown seems convinced his Cleveland Browns will have top-flight quarterbacking this season with the accent on more passing.

As the National Football League team wound up its three-day early training camp here for quarterbacks and rookies Thursday, Brown discussed the close race between Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski for the first - string signal calling job. He indicated Ninowski, the former Michigan State star, has the edge, because of his passing ability.

"But I'm not low-rating Milt," the coach said. "It's easy to forget that last year was really his first season, just as this will be Ninowski's first. In 1957 Plum played behind Tommy O'Connell and didn't get much chance to learn. Last year Ninowski played behind Plum.

"Now they're starting even and no matter which one wins the job, we're going to be assured of good quarterbacking."

Cleveland signed Joe Cannavino, a defensive back from Ohio State, and Dave Lloyd, a center from the University of Georgia. The Browns asked waivers on end Joe Wenzel from Lehigh and Hiles Stout, Illinois quarterback. Gordon Helms, a quarterback from Valparaiso College, also was dropped.

A pair of rookie ends who brought smiles to the Cleveland coaches were Rich Kreitling of Illinois and Gene Cook, a University of Toledo product, who is a dark-horse candidate. Kreitling was the Browns' first draft choice last winter.

Cincinnati Drops First Start Under New Manager, 4-3

Hutch Shifts Frank Thomas To Left Field

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fred Hutchinson's first game as boss of the Cincinnati Reds was a loss and it was particularly galling to this man who takes defeat very hard.

But there was a glint of success Thursday night despite the ninth inning 3-2 loss to the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

One of the big questions was what Hutch would do about Frank Thomas, a bona fide slugger when traded by Pittsburgh last winter but mostly in a slump this season with the Reds.

Hutchinson's first move was to shift the muff - making Thomas from third base to the outfield.

And Thomas, who had been riding the bench, responded by reaching base three times, twice on passes, and in the seventh inning drove out a home run. It was his sixth this season.

Hutch said, "Thomas is too good a player. Records prove it. He got into one of the hitting slumps and eventually it effected his fielding."

The Reds' new field boss likes to win and a victory over the surging Giants Thursday night would have been a boon for the new manager.

But Willie Mays' fleet base running—stealing second after a single and sprinting home on Daryl Spencers' single through the box off Tom Acker—proved fatal. It broke a 2-2 deadlock in the ninth inning.

One of Hutchinson's top problems is the Reds' pitching staff, known all over the league as one of the least likely to succeed.

Hutch started Don Newcombe Thursday night. Newk, who has beaten the Giants four straight, had good control over the opponents although he was touched up for a single and Willie Kirkland's home run in the sixth.

But the new Reds' boss yanked him for a pinch hitter in the eighth and successor Acker could not contain the brief ninth inning rally.

Joe Campbell Leads Field At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Like all the rest of mortal golfers, the professionals make frequent use of that favorite locker room statement which begins: "If only. . .

For instance Joe Campbell, the husky young man from Anderson, Ind., via Purdue University basketball and golf stardom, who now plays out of Knoxville, Tenn.

Today he owned a course record 65 at the Pittsburgh Field Club, and the first round lead in the 60th Western Open championship. What was his locker room comment?

"If only I had holed those putts on 17 and 18 it would have been the best round of my life."

Thirteen golfers bettered par 70, and eight more matched it. Second place went to Dug Ford, of Paradise, Fla., whose blistering 30 on the incoming nine added up to a 66 that equalled the old course mark set by Chick Harbert in 1953 qualifying for the U.S. Open.

One shot further back for the start of today's second round were Arnold Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., and Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N. Y., along with Huston (Paddy) Laclaire, Birmingham, Ala., and Bert Weaver, Beaumont, Tex.

The field of 127 starters will be cut to the low 70s and ties for Saturday's third round, and to the low 50s and ties for the finale Sunday.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Athens, Ohio, posted a 34-36—70.

Cincy Golfer To Meet Defending Champion

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI (AP)— Victorious over two champions, scrambling Tony Blom gets his chance at the big one today in the 53rd Ohio Amateur Golf Tournament.

Blom, 31-year-old clerical worker whose lone golfing claim to fame is Cincinnati's 1958 metropolitan title, goes against defending champion Dick Schwartz of Youngstown in today's third round match play at Kenwood Country Club.

The Queen City shotmaker who comes out of traps and the rough like a champion, disposed of George Bellino of Youngstown, state collegiate king, and Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland, Ohio's Open champ, in Thursday's play.

The luck of the draw put him against Schwartz today and the defending boss of the amateurs faces as tough a chore as he did in the opening rounds when he was forced to go extra holes in each of two matches.

Schwartz was carried 4 holes by Ron Ely of Wilmington and 19 holes by Richard Guardiola of Cleveland.

Guardiola was the last of the Clevelanders to drop out of contention. The entire group of 31 which entered the qualifier from that city was erased. It was the first time in memory of tournament veterans that Cleveland failed to get a man into the final 16.

Kenwood's 6,798-yard, par - 71, sun-baked and rock hard fairways have made big hitters out of even the usual puny drivers. And as a result, upsets have been numerous.

Prodigious lengths off the tee have been a big factor, while 300 yard drives are something even the professionals seldom approach. George Frankenfled of Cincinnati hit his tee shot onto the green on the 363-yard first hole Thursday, scoring a birdie to take an extra hole match from fellow townsman Joe McVicker.

A lot of golfing talent ran into troubles Thursday.

Among the losers were two-time public links champions Jack Zimmerman of Dayton and Dave Daniels of Columbus; Ed Preisler, Cleveland, 1946 amateur champ; E. W. Carmichael, Springfield, 1958 state pre-seniors winner, and Don Albert, Columbus, former Big Ten Champion.

First round results Thursday included:

Bob Shave Jr., Cleveland, defeated Dick Quinn, Zanesville, 4 and 3.

Eugene Maxfield, Cincinnati, defeated Ted Katula, Oberlin, 2 and 1.

Robert Seyler, Mansfield, defeated Jim Grau, Cincinnati, 3 and 2.

Bob Rarkin, Zanesville, defeated Paul Marzluff, Chillicothe, 2 and 1.

Dick Schwartz, Youngstown, defeated Ron Ely, Wilmington, 1 up 24 holes.

Rod Mevers, Springfield, defeated Joe Miller Jr., Hamilton, 1 up, 21 holes.

Ray Heischman, Columbus, defeated Hugh Quinn, Hamilton, 1 up.

Jordan Risks Welter Crown Against Moyer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Don Jordan of Los Angeles risks his welterweight boxing crown tonight against an exuberent teen-ager who hopes to become the youngest fighter ever to win the title.

The challenger is 19-year-old Denny Moyer, who will be fighting before home town supporters in the scheduled 15-round outdoor bout at the Portland Meadows race track. He is ranked the No. 5 contender by the National Boxing Assn., No. 2 by Ring magazine.

The fight will be on NBC television except for a 200-mile area around Portland. Weather forecasters said skies will be clear and the thermometer at 72 degrees or warmer.

Both fighters made the usual victory predictions, but with this difference: Jordan said he thinks he can stop Moyer; Moyer said his plan is to outpoint the champion.

Scoring will be by the 10-point must system, which requires award of 10 points for each round won. The loser of a round usually gets 9 points unless knocked down or beaten badly. That calls for 8 points or less.

Jordan, who has 14 knockouts in his 45-11 record, is considered the harder hitter; Moyer the faster boxer.

Moyer, who had a 72-10 record as an amateur, winning the National AAU welterweight crown in 1957, has won 20 straight since turning professional.

Mary Kathryn (Mickey) Wright, 1958 and 1959 Women's National Open champion, is 5-feet-8½ and weighs 140 pounds.

James Wields Wicked Stick At Rochester

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rochester's Charley James has added the right tonic to keep the club's pitchers in a winning mood during the battle for first place in the International League.

It is his own special formula of base hits and runs batted in spread over 18 games—16 consecutive—in 15 days. Smith had his streak stopped at 16 on Wednesday but bounced back Thursday night with three singles, a triple and three RBIs in the Red Wings' 7-0 victory over Toronto. That plunked the Leafs back into last place.

Walt Craddock pitched a two-hitter as Havana defeated Miami 1-0. Montreal won over league-leading Buffalo 4-3, reducing the Bisons' first place lead to one game over Rochester. Columbus left the IL basement and tied Havana for sixth place with a 3-2 victory over Richmond.

Curt Raydon's third straight victory got Columbus out of the cellar, as he scattered seven hits and struck out 10. Columbus scored its runs in the fourth inning off loser Ed Dick (5-6). Back-to-back doubles by Joe Christopher and Bob Thorpe with one out got things rolling with Nino Escalera scoring another with a single and the third coming across when Frank Leja threw wildly to first on Leo Rodriguez' grounder.

Hillsdale Top Bet Saturday In Gold Cup

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Hoosierland's Hillsdale attempts to race himself into a select hall of fame in Hollywood's $162,100 Gold Cup Handicap Saturday.

Clarence W. Smith's money-winning colt tops a field of nine entered in the mile and one-quarter race.

The experts say Hillsdale should haul down the $100,000 net purse guaranteed to the winner.

If he does, Hillsdale will take his place in a roll of winners that includes many of the famous horses of the sport.

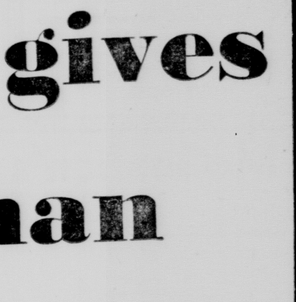

There was Gallant Man last year, Round Table and Swaps the previous two years. Noor won it in 1950 and Citation in 1951 to become the turf's first million dollar winner.

A triumph would boost Hillsdale's earnings for 1959 to $432,500.

Something To Think About

2 Heads Better Than One?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Will the atomic age create a two-headed human race?

Will the man of the future have six eyes, perhaps, and three legs and five arms?

These possibilities, admittedly remote, must be at least considered — in view of what happened to the Florida frogs?

You remember the strange case of the Florida frogs? Unusual frogs were discovered last month near Gainesville, Fla.

They had extra eyes and extra limbs. At first no one paid much attention to them, tolerantly figuring they were probably just a new breed of Yankee tourists, and all Yankee tourists look odd anyway.

But scientists, after studying them, theorized they were homegrown frogs whose ancestral genes had probably gone awry as the result of atomic fallout radiation.

Not all such mutations are necessarily bad for a species, of course. They might even improve the breed—make it better able to face the problems of a troubled world.

Stretching the long arm of possibility a bit farther, what might happen if more and more nations develop hydrogen bombs, and the rate of test explosions is stepped up steeply?

Well, it is likely that in time we might start observing a few dramatic mutations among human beings.

Would that be good or bad for the human race?

A person with three legs would have no particular advantage over a two-legged person, since civilized people don't use their legs much anyway. If pants had three legs in them the cost of suits would go up again. So would the price of a trio, instead of a pair, of shoes.

The advantage of a third eye, however, is obvious to anyone. Today it is just what both pedestrian and driver need to cope with traffic.

The advantages of extra arms are even more obvious. How often have you heard a housewife complain she has only two hands? With three, four, five-or even six hands — could do many more things easily, and housework would become a breeze.

An equally heartening prospect is the possibility that in time atomic radiation might produce people with two heads. There is no telling how much finer a world would emerge if everybody was two-headed, and therefore twice as thoughtful.

But as soon as these mutations start appearing — if they do — you can be sure of one thing. A bunch of old fogies will run around screaming: "Stop the hydrogen bomb explosions! We don't want children with two heads, six eyes, four legs and five hands. We want our children to look like us!"

That's the trouble with human progress. There's always a bunch of fuzzy-minded, stubborn, stick-in-the-mud folks who want to keep things the way they are. They fight any change for the better.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Summer Worries Working Parents

By Garry Meyers

One-third of all the women in the United States work outside the home. Four out of 10 mothers with children of school age are in the labor force. Of the working mothers in the nation, 2,500,000 have children under 6. These are the findings of a conference on woo manpower held at Columbia University, October, 1957.

As I have pointed out before, nearly all the moaning by do-gooders about children whose mothers work, is limited to the youngster under six, leaving the impression that school-age children, especially the under-teenagers, don't really need to have their mothers, or a competent substitute, home by day. The assumption is that these older children are in school while the mother is working.

WHAT IS overlooked is that, when the mother works, she and the father may leave home an hour or more earlier than the children leave for school and return home an hour or more later; that, whereas a mother would hardly leave at home, without adult protection, a baby or a tot under 6, she might think nothing of letting the school child fend for himself during her hours of absence.

What about the youngsters of school age whose mothers work during the long summer when these children don't go to school? What protection have these children?

Sometimes a neighbor, operating from her home, is hired to look after them. Sometimes a competent older person is employed to supervise these children. Very often, though, the youngsters are left wholly on their own.

Now a teen-ager of the family, even a child no older than 12, may do pretty well in manging and protecting much younger children of the family while the mother or both parents work; yet it's a great responsibility on a child so young. How many are able to bear it well? Besides, teen-agers left at home with no older person day after day while their mothers work, may be seriously neglected.

—:—

OF COURSE there may be some kind neighbors who voluntarily look after the children while their mothers work or they are burdened against their will with having them in their homes most of the day.

Any mother who works should employ a competent mature person to supervise her children during her absence. This is the mother's moral obligation to her children, to the neighbors and the whole community.

My bulletin "Working Mothers," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Gets Careful Scrutiny

U.S. Business Challenged By Russians At Exhibition

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has put her challenge to American business on display at New York's Coliseum. And American business representatives have been giving it careful — if somewhat puzzled—scrutiny.

In consumer goods, the challenge is less than impressive. In scientific fields and in technical machinery Soviet ability is evident.

But the Soviet Exhibition of Achievements in Science, Technology and Culture here leaves two big questions unanswered:

1. How much of any of the products on display can the Soviet Union actually produce, spare and sell abroad?

2. What price competition can it offer American industry?

Few American businessmen who have asked these questions while viewing the exhibits report getting definite answers.

Soviet prices for export apparently will be what political policy dictates.

The exhibits bear no price tags. Inquiry as to what a Soviet worker himself would have to pay for the consumer goods are answered in round terms by the guides. But what the Soviet Union would ask for them in world trade isn't.

Few of the consumer exhibits show any aim at pleasing American tastes. Some of the industrial machinery seems ill-suited to American industrial requirements.

But U.S. observers note that some products seem definitely aimed at other world markets, where until recently American productive skill had an inside track.

Cut-rate prices — particularly machinery and machine tools — could put Americans in a bad competitive position, U.S. industrialists have been quick to note.

And tailoring special products to special needs — at special prices and come-on credit terms — could bring the Soviet Union trade, if she really wants it and goes out for it.

American businessmen questioning Soviety officials at the exhibition say that, for all the display of scientific advancement, the Soviets are still actively shopping here for American technological knowledge. They also figure that this is one of the main objectives of the visit to this country of First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov.

Whatever reservations American observers have about the Soviet exhibits, many believe the Soviet Union could be a trade threat in other markets than this one — with its own peculiar pricing policies.

Bank Robbery Record Set In '59, FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bank robbers were busier last year than in any year in history, the FBI reported today.

The report, for the fiscal year ended June 30, showed 764 violations of the federal bank robbery law. They included 445 robberies, 233 burglaries and 86 larcenies.

The total compared with 631 violations in the previous fiscal year and 606 in 1932, at the height of the gangster era.

Gets Careful Scrutiny

U.S. Business Challenged By Russians At Exhibition

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has put her challenge to American business on display at New York's Coliseum. And American business representatives have been giving it careful — if somewhat puzzled—scrutiny.

In consumer goods, the challenge is less than impressive. In scientific fields and in technical machinery Soviet ability is evident.

But the Soviet Exhibition of Achievements in Science, Technology and Culture here leaves two big questions unanswered:

1. How much of any of the products on display can the Soviet Union actually produce, spare and sell abroad?

2. What price competition can it offer American industry?

Few American businessmen who have asked these questions while viewing the exhibits report getting definite answers.

Soviet prices for export apparently will be what political policy dictates.

The exhibits bear no price tags. Inquiry as to what a Soviet worker himself would have to pay for the consumer goods are answered in round terms by the guides. But what the Soviet Union would ask for them in world trade isn't.

Few of the consumer exhibits show any aim at pleasing American tastes. Some of the industrial machinery seems ill-suited to American industrial requirements.

But U.S. observers note that some products seem definitely aimed at other world markets, where until recently American productive skill had an inside track.

Cut-rate prices — particularly machinery and machine tools — could put Americans in a bad competitive position, U.S. industrialists have been quick to note.

And tailoring special products to special needs — at special prices and come-on credit terms — could bring the Soviet Union trade, if she really wants it and goes out for it.

American businessmen questioning Soviety officials at the exhibition say that, for all the display of scientific advancement, the Soviets are still actively shopping here for American technological knowledge. They also figure that this is one of the main objectives of the visit to this country of First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov.

Whatever reservations American observers have about the Soviet exhibits, many believe the Soviet Union could be a trade threat in other markets than this one — with its own peculiar pricing policies.

Bank Robbery Record Set In '59, FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bank robbers were busier last year than in any year in history, the FBI reported today.

The report, for the fiscal year ended June 30, showed 764 violations of the federal bank robbery law. They included 445 robberies, 233 burglaries and 86 larcenies.

The total compared with 631 violations in the previous fiscal year and 606 in 1932, at the height of the gangster era.

Hearing Fixed In Club Ban Of Jews, Negroes

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the West Side Tennis Club have been asked to appear July 21 before the city's Commission on Inter-Group Relations to answer questions about the club's reported policy of banning Negroes and Jews.

The hearing is a result of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche's disclosure Wednesday that the fashionable Forest Hills club's president, Wilfred Burglund, had told him neither he nor his son could join the club because they are Negroes.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) said Thursday that he and four other senators had sent a telegram to the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. asking that the U.S. tennis championships and the Davis Cup matches be transferred from the West Side club.

There also was a storm of other protests against the club's ban on Dr. Bunche, who is United Nations under secretary for special political affairs and a Nobel Peace Prize winner.

Burglund could not be reached for comment.

Victor Denny, president of the tennis association, was attending a meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation in Dublin.

Red Authorities Uneasy In Poland Religious Riot

KRASNIK FABRYCZNY, Poland (AP)—Communist authorities still show uneasiness two weeks after a religious riot in this town in southeast Poland they thought was a Communist showpiece.

Orders are out for more arrests in a roundup to check agitation for construction of a Catholic church. Local persons say at least 300 have been picked up, although officials say no more than 20 are under arrest.

Tadeusz Marx, Communist chief in the town and chairman of the local council, warned:

"Before we build a church, which would cost millions of Zlotys we must build more schools which also cost millions."

Roman Catholic officials said the Communists are reluctant to admit that residents of their "model" town prefer a church to other new buildings.

Communist militiamen armed with submachine guns nightly patrol Lublin, the nearest big city, in fear the unrest will spread there.

State Patrolmen Stand By In Pen Hunger Strike

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—With state patrolmen standing by, prison officials waited to see if 1,000 white convicts were in a mood to continue their hunger strike today.

The strike, in support of demands for better conditions, covered all three meals Thursday but authorities so far have made no move to force the convicts' hand.

"We have no rule that they have to eat," Corrections Director Jack Forrester said, but he and Warden R. P. Balkcom served notice that any violation of rules would meet swift punishment.

The hunger strike started at breakfast Thursday when 400 convicts refused to eat after posting a nine-point list of demands in their cell blocks.

The list ranged from the minor demand for fried eggs, instead of boiled or scrambled, to less severe treatment for prisoners confined in isolation cells.

Admiral Quizzed By Probers About Interservice Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators ask Adm. Arthur W. Radford today just whom he had in mind when he said interservice rows were encouraged from outside the Pentagon.

Radford is a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who was recalled into part time government service as a defense consultant. He faces questioning by a House subcommittee investigating alleged influences and pressures in weapons buying.

In a television interview June 28, Radford said one reason why defense decisions are not always fully supported by all services is that "there are certain encouragements lent from outside the Pentagon, for one reason or another."

The admiral said he did not mean "Congress alone" but that defense manufacturers also had to be taken into account.

Takes Post At Ohio U.

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Paul F. Schofer, a native Ohioan with 18 years of teaching, coaching and counseling experience in Ohio high schools in Wapakoneta, Hamilton and Massillon, is the new assistant dean of men at Ohio University, President John C. Baker has announced. Schofer has been guidance counselor at a St. Petersburg, Fla., high school for the past year.

Hearing Fixed In Club Ban Of Jews, Negroes

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the West Side Tennis Club have been asked to appear July 21 before the city's Commission on Inter-Group Relations to answer questions about the club's reported policy of banning Negroes and Jews.

The hearing is a result of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche's disclosure Wednesday that the fashionable Forest Hills club's president, Wilfred Burglund, had told him neither he nor his son could join the club because they are Negroes.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) said Thursday that he and four other senators had sent a telegram to the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. asking that the U.S. tennis championships and the Davis Cup matches be transferred from the West Side club.

There also was a storm of other protests against the club's ban on Dr. Bunche, who is United Nations under secretary for special political affairs and a Nobel Peace Prize winner.

Burglund could not be reached for comment.

Victor Denny, president of the tennis association, was attending a meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation in Dublin.

Red Authorities Uneasy In Poland Religious Riot

KRASNIK FABRYCZNY, Poland (AP)—Communist authorities still show uneasiness two weeks after a religious riot in this town in southeast Poland they thought was a Communist showpiece.

Orders are out for more arrests in a roundup to check agitation for construction of a Catholic church. Local persons say at least 300 have been picked up, although officials say no more than 20 are under arrest.

Tadeusz Marx, Communist chief in the town and chairman of the local council, warned:

"Before we build a church, which would cost millions of Zlotys we must build more schools which also cost millions."

Roman Catholic officials said the Communists are reluctant to admit that residents of their "model" town prefer a church to other new buildings.

Communist militiamen armed with submachine guns nightly patrol Lublin, the nearest big city, in fear the unrest will spread there.

State Patrolmen Stand By In Pen Hunger Strike

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—With state patrolmen standing by, prison officials waited to see if 1,000 white convicts were in a mood to continue their hunger strike today.

The strike, in support of demands for better conditions, covered all three meals Thursday but authorities so far have made no move to force the convicts' hand.

"We have no rule that they have to eat," Corrections Director Jack Forrester said, but he and Warden R. P. Balkcom served notice that any violation of rules would meet swift punishment.

The hunger strike started at breakfast Thursday when 400 convicts refused to eat after posting a nine-point list of demands in their cell blocks.

The list ranged from the minor demand for fried eggs, instead of boiled or scrambled, to less severe treatment for prisoners confined in isolation cells.

Admiral Quizzed By Probers About Interservice Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators ask Adm. Arthur W. Radford today just whom he had in mind when he said interservice rows were encouraged from outside the Pentagon.

Radford is a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who was recalled into part time government service as a defense consultant. He faces questioning by a House subcommittee investigating alleged influences and pressures in weapons buying.

In a television interview June 28, Radford said one reason why defense decisions are not always fully supported by all services is that "there are certain encouragements lent from outside the Pentagon, for one reason or another."

The admiral said he did not mean "Congress alone" but that defense manufacturers also had to be taken into account.

Takes Post At Ohio U.

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Paul F. Schofer, a native Ohioan with 18 years of teaching, coaching and counseling experience in Ohio high schools in Wapakoneta, Hamilton and Massillon, is the new assistant dean of men at Ohio University. President John C. Baker has announced. Schofer has been guidance counselor at a St. Petersburg, Fla., high school for the past year.

Looks Help Keep Age A Secret

Age is a fascinating subject. With many women it is difficult to tell their age within ten years because they do not give their age away. They have a talent for staying refreshingly young.

Ida Jean Kain

To this dietitians way of thinking, the prime requisites for keeping young are these: a healthy functioning body which, of course, necessitates good nutrition; a young point of view and — equanimity. There is a proverb to the effect that if you get angry quickly you will quickly age.

"To be fat is to be old" is another well known proverb. However, this does not make the opposite extreme true. The too thin woman does not look beautifully young.

FIVE TO SIX rounded pounds above the streamlined margin put a bloom on a woman. But twenty added pounds strain all the vital organs, and that is the real reason excess fat is aging.

On the figure score, there are certain places that are a dead give-away for age. Here they are: . . .the tell-tale chinline, the scruff of the neck, the tone of the upper arms and the shape of the middle measurement.

If your chin has slipped, check your head carriage. Your style is the way you carry your head. Practice pulling up with that line at the back of the neck, and routinely hold the tip of the chin level. With elegant head carriage a double chin or creepy throat haven't a chance.

One good thing leads to another. Carry your head properly and you will avoid a Dowager's Hump . . .that bump of age that settles on the 7th cervical vetebrae. Corrective measures for erasing this annoying sign of age is to square your shoulders but keep them down and relaxed, hold your head high and pull up with that bump of self-esteem on the crown of your head.

The triceps muscles on the backs of the upper arms seem to lose their grip on youth all too soon. Since they are not lifting muscles, the triceps are not used in routine activities. Their action is forcible extension of the arms. Any thrusting movement helps to tone the upper arms.

WHEN ARMS ARE down at sides, get the knack of habitually holding backs of hands forward, soft part of elbow toward body. That keeps a slight toning twist on triceps muscles.

Last and most important, keep slim and supple through the middle measurement. Get the habit of stretching every morning. . .really stretch, bend to the side and hold. . . .release slowly. Stretch again. . .it's a natural.

Send a long stamped self - addressed envelope for "Get A Lift With Posture." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post cards can not be answered.
